Lancer Wrestling Team To Present Exhibition

On Wednesday, December 1, the members of the Our Lady of Sorrows High School wrestling team will present an introductory program to acquaint the public with the wrestling program at O.L.S. The program will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the high school gym and is free of charge.

Dan Potter, head coach of the Lancer wrestling team, explained, "During the program, we will endeavor to explain the objectives, rules and the worth of wrestling. We will show you our equipment and present a brief demonstration of an actual wrestling match so that you may better understand the fundamentals of this sport. A picture session is scheduled for the latter part of the program.

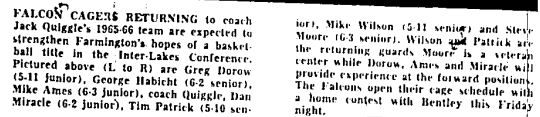

"After our program," coach Potter concluded, "refreshments will be served and I hope that I will have an opportunity to meet each of you who have contributed so greatly to our program, and others interested in following the Lancer wrestling team this season."

The 1965-66 Our Lady of Sorrows wrestling schedule follows:

QB Oldershaw Named In News All-State Team Junior Football Banquet Held

North Farmington quarterback Bill Oldershaw captured more gridiron laurels this week as he was named to the Detroit News All-State Football Team.

Oldershaw a week earlier had gained a berth on the News All-Suburban Team for his fine signal calling that led the Raiders to their first perfect season in football, nine straight victories.

Area coaches consider the slender six-footer one of the "blue chip athletes" in the state. His passing record and fine running ability earned him the respect of every team in North Farmington run up against en route to their first Northwest Suburban Conference Championship.

OLDERSHAW piloted the Raiders over the last two seasons to 16 victories, a tie and just one loss.

No sooner than did the grid season end than Oldershaw joined the Raider basketball team workouts. He is a returning letterman for cage mentor Dick Wilson and is expected to hold down a key guard position again this year for the Raiders cagers.

The Farmington Junior Football Association recently concluded the season with the election of officers and a general membership meeting.

The meeting was held in conjunction with the annual banquet where the players and cheerleaders attended as guests of the Association with their families.

THE HALL was filled with over 500 people who gladdened the heart of President Bob Dwyer with a standing ovation upon presentation of the President's Plaque recognizing his excellent efforts the past two years. They further elected him by acclamation to serve as President for a third year. Jim Hartie will fill the chair of Executive Vice President.

The boys will be divided into two Jack Lowther League teams next year. The Missile League will be composed of boys living north of the 1606 Expressway.

THE ROCKETS will be boys living in the area south of 1696. Bill Rencz will be Athletic Director coordinating the field operation of all the teams.

Newly elected officers from previously mentioned are: Missile Vice President, Bill Hudson; Rocket Vice President, Don Paenelze; Recording Secretary, Marge Dwyer; Corresponding Secretary, Pat Hartie; Treasurer, Dick Bey; new club members, Leo Devine and Jack Brown; Continuing Directors, Tom Hester and George Hunt (George will again be Registrar); City Heumann is President of the Dad's Quarterback Club and therefore, also on the Board of Directors.

Heartiest congratulations to all the officers and good wishes for success in their assignments.

On ice, studded snow tires prove, in preparedness-minded Farmington drivers have been wondering about the merits of special winter tires as compared with that of a more recently developed device—tungsten carbide studs imbedded in auto tires.

Understandably, some drivers have turned to Police Chief Maurice D. Poltz of the City of Farmington and Chief Irving H. Yakes of the Township for an informed opinion.

Dismissing any personal expertise in the field of winter traction devices, the two local police chiefs this week gave out the following information which is based on National Safety Council research findings:

CARS EQUIPPED with snow tires with metal studs are safer than cars with regular snow tires, but some reports indicate that their stopping efficiency on wet or dry, paved surfaces may be somewhat less than that of cars using regular tires without studs.

Unstudded snow tires provide better traction in snow, and somewhat better traction on ice, than regular tires.

Still unchallenged in providing traction for both starting and stopping in severe winter conditions is the time-honored remedy for winter worry employed by generations of drivers—reinforced tire chains, readily applied when needed and easily removed when the need has passed.

PUBLISHED RESEARCH results show that following average performance, based on tests conducted on ice at temperatures ranging from 18 degrees below to 32 degrees above zero.

Stopping distance for a car traveling at 20 mph—with reinforced tire chains, 70 feet; with studded snow tires, 119 feet; with snow tires, 187 feet; with regular tires, 180 feet.

With respect to pulling ability on ice, studded tires held the same relative position in efficiency—that is, between regular snow tires and tire chains, according to Prof. A. H. Easton, University of Wisconsin, chairman of the Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards.

Easton summarized traction test results by reporting that snow tires give 36 per cent improvement over regular tires to

Heyn Brothers On Hockey Team

Jeff and Steve Heyn of Farmington have been selected from more than 40 boys to play on a 15-member hockey team from Royal Oak. Jeff, a defenseman, and Steve, a goalie, both attend North Farmington High School.

The Royal Oak team, called the "Radiators" after their sponsor, is a traveling team and is entered in a state-wide league. They open their league season with a game in Port Huron.

JEFF AND STEVE attended Tam O' Shanter Hockey School in Toronto this summer, and both played football at North Farmington High School this season.

Jeff is said to have one of the hardest shots on the team and Steve is expected to be one of the best goals on the squad with his goalkeeping.

The Radiator team won the league trophy last season and is expected to be a sure contender this year.

All-Suburban Grid Honors For Pete Dolan

For the second time in as many weeks, a North Farmington High School football player received distinction by being named to an All-Suburban grid team. Pete Dolan, senior tackle and undefeated Raider, was named Saturday to the Detroit Free Press All-Suburban Football Team. Dolan's teammate, quarterback Bill Oldershaw, earned the same distinction a week earlier when he was named to the Detroit News named to their All-Suburban team.

Dolan, a six-footer who tips the scales at 190 pounds, went both ways for North Farmington coach Ron Holland and, according to the Free Press, was named one of the area's finest blockers by every coach who watched him play. He plans on entering Albion College next fall and pursue a course of study in law.

Dolan, in addition to earning a berth on the Free Press All-Suburban Team, was a member of the Northwest Suburban League's All-Conference squad. He is expected to make a strong bid for honors on the Free Press All-State Football Team to be announced this week.
