This Is Kimberley

VERA R. KERASTAS

Again we welcome three new families who had the wisdom to select Kimberley homes for their addresses.

In the former Bud Erickson home on Wicklow, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Kallgren are settling down with their brood of six and Grace Morris Greene. Speaking of the Ericksons, Bud is in Alabama where a new home has been purchased. The move, so he's having a slight school holiday. When the expected mumps epidemic has subsided, the outdoors will again be the family's playground.

That nasty flu bug has invaded so many homes that it's hardly worth mentioning. But two of our neighbors had other frightening experiences last week.

On Saturday, Nov. 27, while Dave and Bettie Wilmer were shopping, Dave suffered severe chest pains. Betty drove him straight to St. Mary Hospital with a suspected heart attack. X-rays and other exhaustive tests kindly ruled this out, and Dave was released the following Wednesday. Shoved back to work, he is now merely a diet watcher.

Who should visit him there but his neighbor, Mrs. Raymond Dudash, a patient herself. Severe chest and arm spasms also sent Beverly to the hospital on Sunday, Nov. 28, for observation and tests. Suspected heart attack; but again, thankfully, it was eliminated. Spartan Bev went ahead with her Sunday open house on Dec. 5!!!

SOME ADULT choristers in Kimberley belong to the adult choir of Nardin Park Methodist Church. Last week, they surprised Miss Vicki Brown, director of the children's junior choir, and her fiancée, Dan Webster, with a "his" and "her" bridal shower.

Mr. Robert Throgmorton of Barwell is progressing satisfactorily after his serious accident and is back at work for Chrysler Corp. this week. Bob and Mary wish to thank all their friends for their notes of comfort and many prayers which helped so much in this difficult period.

The Otis Hoerle family also wish to thank their many friends for aiding them in countless ways through their recent tragedy.

There are only 40 tickets left for Kimberley's Christmas Dance. These will be on sale at Meadowbrook's door Saturday, Dec. 11, at $4.00 a couple.
