Understanding your HEALTH

By Albert E. Heustis, M.D. Director
Michigan Department of Public Health

If your medicine cabinet looks like Fibber McGee's closet, it's time to take inventory and throw out those outdated medicines. Old medicine can cause needless tragedies from drug poisoning — especially in homes where there are youngsters in the climbing state. So protect your family and yourself by cleaning out that cluttered cabinet NOW. Start by disposing of the following:

1. Old prescriptions you are not currently using;
2. Any medicine that has changed color or formed a residue at the bottom of the bottle;
3. Any tablets that crumble or show signs of disintegration;
4. All drop containers left over from treating an infection. The dropper may have touched the infection and thus become contaminated;
5. Ointments or salves that have become cloudy or developed a solid residue at the bottom of the bottle;
6. Mild antiseptics that have become cloudy or developed a residue;
7. Aspirin tablets that give off a vinegary odor;
8. Nose drops that have become cloudy or developed a residue;
9. Eye drops or washes used for treating an illness. Some of these eye medications could develop a dangerous fungus;
10. Hydrogen peroxide that no longer bubbles vigorously;
11. Milk of magnesia that has become caked.

Remember, time and medicine don't always mix! Over a long period of time, the chemicals combined in a solution — whether it be a mild ointment or a strong antiseptic — may go through a "breaking down" process. Once this "breaking down" process takes place, the solution usually becomes weaker. But in some cases, it can become much more powerful and, therefore, extremely harmful.

So make sure those old medicines of all types have just one place to go — DOWN THE DRAIN!

Technical Sgt. Ed Smith, local Air Force Recruiter, announced today that the Air Force is recruiting qualified dogs from civilian life for training as an Armed Forces Sentry Dog. The Air Force Sentry Dog School, at Lackland AFB, Texas, trains dogs for the Army, Navy and Marine Corps, as well as for the Air Force. Qualifications for needed dogs are: male or spayed female

Marine Serving In Fla.

Marine Private Gary T. Gatzert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gatzert of 32660 W. Ten-Mile, is attending the Marine Mechanical and Fundamentals course at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Jacksonville, Fla.

The course serves as an indoctrination into Marine Corps aviation and a screening course for further assignment to a technical school for men assigned to the six months active duty program of the Marine Corps Reserve.

Table Request

A letter to the City Council from the Greater Farmington Softball League requesting permission to use the lighted ball field on Friday evenings from May 27, through September 2, 1966, was tabled by the Council at a regular meeting on December 20.

Council members stated that since there will be other requests for use of the field, applications should be held until the middle of March, at which time all requests would be considered.

Receives Det. Edison Promotion

Farmington resident Paul Marberg has been named supervisor of the planning and scheduling section of Detroit Edison's construction and maintenance department.

Mr. Marberg was born in Oberhausen, Germany, but was brought to the United States at the age of 24. His family lived in Buffalo (New York) and in Harbor Beach (Michigan) before settling in Detroit in 1927. He graduated from Cass Tech High School and holds an Electrical Engineering degree from Lawrence Institute of Technology. During World War II he served as a navigator with the U.S. Army Air Force.

Highfalutin Flutes

The precious metal platinum is used to make high-quality flutes. Eight such platinum flutes, each costing $5,000, are being played by musicians today.

Consumers Power Company

...working to sell MICHIGAN 365 days each year!

In the next five years, Michigan will need about 100,000 new jobs each year, just to sustain population growth. The key to creating these new jobs is industrial expansion. And Consumers Power Company's Area Development department is working constantly to help existing industry and bring new industry to this area. One phase of this effort is to advertise regularly for new industry in national publications like The Wall Street Journal and Business Week. These topical advertisements, shown above, reach over 1 million readers. Helping provide the jobs we'll be needing tomorrow is part of our obligation to serve the people of Michigan. It's another nice thing about having Consumers Power as your neighbor.
