Women of the Morgan family, Pat, Patty, and Chris, spent a pleasant week's interlude in Ft. Lauderdale recently. They enjoyed the sunshine, paid a visit to a destroyer anchored nearby, and to the Flamingo Groves botanical gardens. This last was of particular value to Patty in conjunction with her nature studies in school. Meanwhile, back at the ranch, Bill and Larry were minding the store and undergoing junior high midsemester exams.

Carol Franklin entertained at a birthday luncheon on her fourth birthday. Gigi, the poodle, added to the festivities by tearing up the tablecloth while Carol and her mommy were out shopping for some last-minute necessities. Guests at the party were Lynne Held, Chrissy Morgan, Sandy and Mike McCaughan. That very same evening, the McCaughans had a dinner party for the Franklins in honor of Ann's natal day. Everyone at the Franklins' had their fill of birthday cake in February.

LARSONS DROVE to Coldwater to spend Irene's birthday with Joe's sister and her husband. They had an evening of skating at the local park; the following Wednesday, Joe left for a business trip to England, Germany, and Switzerland.

Marilyn Borst just happened to be home from school on her nineteenth birthday, and was taken to dinner at Cafe Gourmet by Mom, Dad, Judy, and boyfriend Terry. They all tried the specialties of the restaurant, Terry manfully giving up his beloved catnip to do so. Bobby Howes shares a birthday with a famous George. He was six, and brought a number of his friends home for lunch after kindergarten that day. Those present were three young Antzaks, Paula, Pam, and Kim; Greg and Eric Checketts; Julie Garvoda; Ted and Gabe; Leslie Bahington; and Mark Greenbury. His cousins and grandparents came to wish him well the following weekend. His dad recently topped all the Sunday night bowlers with a score of 238.

Kevin Pearson's family including his grandma took him to see That Darned Cat on his eighth birthday.

SQUARE DANCERS are reminded that March 12 is their next date, and they will swing out at Dan and Murray's in Livonia. Betty Garvoda will answer any pertinent questions at GR 4-4733.

Billy Griffin wanted very much to go skating on his birthday, the thirteenth, but the weather didn't cooperate so he and Larry Morgan and Jack Charlesworth had a session of bowling and returned to a very special lunch prepared by Mom.

A CANNING MACHINE at the Bon Ton Shoppe in the Downtown Farmington Center offers a novel idea in gift packaging. Mrs. Stella Winger of Bon Ton is pictured demonstrating how the machine works in canning and labeling a birthday gift. Several sizes of cans are available and the process only takes a very few minutes to complete.
