'Spanish Town' is Theme Of Quaker Valley Dance

Quaker Valley's first annual Country Club was a unique and vivid party. It was entitled "In a Little Spanish Town."

Formal notes were mailed out to each resident of Quaker Valley. On the corner of the white invitations was a black lace fan with a red satin rose. When the guests, elegant in their formal attire arrived, they were greeted with a scene from colorful Spain. "Castillo De Barcelona" (Castle of Barcelona) was decorated with hundreds of huge tissue paper flowers in wild Spanish colors, hot pink, orange, blue, red, lavender, etc. At the entrance of the dance floor was a flowered wrought iron trellis covered with vines.

Individual tables had been set with a red tablecloth centered with a wrought iron candle holder and candle. A surprise was the hillbilly rendition of the unusual experience. Mrs. Ed Laitinen, of Quaker Valley residents, Mrs. Dora Kava, Mr. and Mrs. The guests had expected Walter Hagen.
