

'Winnie-the-Pooh' Is The Look For Spring

Entering the scene and capturing the hearts of the wearer as well as the purchaser, is the fashionable designer collection for spring, Sears Department Stores exclusive, Winnie-the-Pooh styles.

Who or what is Winnie-the-Pooh? Why, anyone young at heart could tell you of the honey loving bear, Pooh, a silly Western Wayne County bear, is the brain-child of British author A. A. Milne, and loved dearly by every young imaginative child that is exposed to the whimsical Winnie-the-Pooh.

Sweet as honey too is the fresh uncomplicated, reasonably priced collection. Colors featured for the spring collection are RED, WHITE and BLUE— from polka dots to checks and plaids, interpreting the "total look" or the "costume effect."

Styles of dresses that team up with their own coats to form "the finished look" in apparel for girls and coordinated ensembles for boys are British inspired and are available in sizes 1 through 6X.

A collection within a collection is created just for toddlers in a version of the "total look."

PAMELA MILNE
Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Milne, 32622 Ohio, Livonia, announce the engagement of their daughter Pamela Grace to Jack Harold Peterson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Peterson, Sr., formerly of Minton, Livonia, but presently residing in Three Rivers. Both are Franklin graduates in the class of '65. The bride-elect will attend Central University and will attend Carnegie Institute in March. Jack is in the Navy and is presently stationed in Charleston, S. C. A 1967 wedding is planned.

Livonia School Stages Colonial Fashion Show

Girls of Mrs. Brown's class, (7 to 14 years of age) Holmes Junior High, staged a Colonial Fashion show. It was presented in the Stevenson High School library to all of the 7th grade girls in Holmes.

Each of the girls modeled a costume of the colonial American period made by the models. Girls who modeled were Linda Formosa, Cheryl Smith, Robyne Weber, Darlene Holmes, Judy Sutton, Claudia Quint, Barbara Lelli, Liz Temple, Jean Bachand, Kathy Lalchak, Sue Johnson and Mimi Luckham.

The girls carried various items of colonial life such as a coffee grinder, stocks, kerchiefs, lamps, home-dipped candles, wax-wheels (similar to spinning wheels) and other assorted implements.

Narrator Mimi Luckham explained the use of each of these items and then the costume itself. Harpsichord music was played to provide a more colonial background.

Kendallwood Women Plan Visits To Plymouth State Home

Women of Kendallwood Farms who have never had the opportunity to visit the Plymouth State Home and Training School, will now have the chance to see first hand some of the wonderful work being done there.

A group will be leaving the Kendallwood Shopping Center promptly at 9 a.m. on the mornings of March 10, 16 and 20, and they plan to be home shortly after lunch time. Please call Mrs. Roland Ringquist if you would like to be included in this tour.

Plymouth State Home and Training School receives the proceeds of the Annual Spring Card Party. The date of the benefit card party this year will be April 26th.

MAKING ARRANGEMENTS FOR the Keeler Mothers' Club Fashion Show - Dinner are (left to right) Betty Hollinger and Angie Bonadon. The time is 7 p.m. on Thursday, March 17 at Roma Hall. Mrs. Hollinger will be commentator for the parade of fashions from Sears to be modeled by Keeler Mothers and teachers. Elsie Cliey and Angie Bonadon are co-chairmen. Tickets must be purchased by March 5.

PICTURE TALK

by Les Wilson

Don't Watch the Birdie

Remember the good old days when we watched the birdie? And said "cheese," and wound up with pictures of the family that looked as if they all had indigestion? I remember lots of good things about days gone by, but those poker-faced pictures are not pleasant memories. Oddly enough, some people are still living in the good old days.

These are the people who should know about flashcube photography. The KODAK INSTAMATIC 104 Camera using flashcube can bring them up to date. And bring their picture memories to life. Drop in a film cartridge and you're ready to go. Pop on a flashcube for indoor shooting and good pictures are certain. The flashcube rotates automatically as film is advanced. You can take four flash pictures without changing bulbs. And do it all four in five seconds if you have to. The KODAK INSTAMATIC 104 is a camera that no picture can escape. It's always ready to capture the party, the fun, just the way it happens. It can put the days of stiff expressions, and awkward poses of the family behind you.

The KODAK INSTAMATIC 104 Camera is so simple a child can load and operate it easily. So inexpensive that anyone still living in the "birdie" days of picture-taking has no excuse not to own one.

The KODAK INSTAMATIC 104 Quilted costs only $18.95. Complete with camera, film, flashcube, and batteries. If your picture-taking is a little behind the times, why not stop in for a demonstration. I'll be glad to show you.
