District Forensic, Part B held on March 25 at Ypsilanti High School. All first and second place winners of the local spring tournaments, held March 9 at Garden City East High School, will go to Ypsilanti. Original oratory winners were first place, Gerry Cox; second place, Matt Black, and third place, Dennis DeBurton. Extension winners were first place, Larry Wheeler; second place, Mary Englund. Radio contestants were: first place winner, Dennis Frank; second place winner, Jim Ambranski; and third place, Dennis DeBurton. Extension winners were first place, Larry Wheeler; second place, Mary Englund. Multiple reading group going to Ypsilanti are Tom Rankin, Al Shanon, Paul Lampson, and Dave Jose. Claudette Barney placed first in the declamation speeches, and Mary Alice Schaefer placed second. Barb Schaefer and Lyette Yori tied for third place.

Humorous interpretation winners were first place, Terry Weaver; second, Bridget Wing, and third, Dave Bay. Concluding the lists of winners are Sandy Haefner, first in the serious interpretation and John Boyers, second. Dianne Shipley was third place winner. Sophomores and juniors will hold elections on April 21, according to Council officers. Petitions will be available Monday (March 28) from the Student Council.

The Ugly Duckling" by A. A. Milne, will be presented by Garden City East High's Dramatic Club for competition with four other schools in the Mid-Wayne League One-Act Play Festival April 5 at Robichaud High School. Leading roles are being presented by Paul Sneider and Sandra Haefner. Other participants are Jim Spence, Karen Fick, David Bay, Karen Seago, and Doug Chalfour. Pietro Di Giorgio will be directing.

At Clarencville

Cage Duels Interesting

By TONY HEAD
The past week at Clarencville High has been one of class rivalry with the start of the inter-class basketball games. The Junior and Sophomores 26-16. The Seniors played the freshmen and won 42-16. The next game for the championship will be between the Seniors and the Sophomores on March 20.

Spring does not only bring sports. Trunks for the Annual Spring Musical have started. Speaking and singing parts are available besides a need for stars, lights and prop workers. This year's musical will be "Oklahoma" under the direction of Steve Vulovic.

On March 5 Clarencville High School Band, under the direction of John Nettek, participated in the Detroit Band Concert. In the Class B division, Clarencville was the smallest band but scored all 1 1/2, the highest possible score. The band was judged on its ability to play the Elmira Concert March, The English Folk Song Suite and the America First Rhapsody. It was also judged on appearance and ability to sight read. Because of the excellent score, the band will go on to the state competition.

Have any old books? The Clarencville Honor Society is sponsoring a book drive. Any old books would be appreciated.

AT GARDEN CITY WEST

Go Go Listed Friday

By KAREN SLEBODNIK
The East-West Go Go will be held on March 18 (Friday) at the West gym, which is a closed dance for East and West students only. It will be a senior class sponsored affair beginning at 7:30 and ending at 11:00. East students are asked to purchase their tickets from any of their senior class officers. The tickets will be on sale from March 16-18. Identification will be needed.

Go Go Girls from West will be Aileen Nelson, Karen Davis, Linda Rose, Judy Kanski, Anne Zaron, Jackie Shaw and Diane Brown. The featured band will be the House of Commons with John Santamoro as lead singer. There will also be more bands, local talent, and records.

The school newspaper will be published shortly and go on sale at the end of next week. It will be eight pages packed with news.

The Junior Varsity wrestling squad had a perfect season with a record of 10 wins and no losses. The Senior Prom Court has been announced by the senior class sponsors, Mrs. Murdoch, Mrs. Jones, Mr. Croft, Miss Sevigny, and Mr. Fink. Representing the Seniors in the court are: Judy Bedard, Cindy Billed, Nancy Jones, Connie Miller, Marcia Kolodnick and Joyce Pippen. Chosen by the basketball team as co-captains for the 66-67 school year were Jim Mincey and Bob Gamache. The senior class motto, color, flower and poem have been chosen for this year's graduating class. The motto will be "Man's reach should exceed his grasp, or what's heaven for?" Class colors are light and dark blue. Class flower is the white orchid and the poem was written by Dan Shannom. In formation for six local scholarships has been posted in the showcase by the office. Be sure to look. Anyone interested in buying a yearbook, may do so by coming into the yearbook room after school.

Rehearsals for Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical, the "King and I" are almost finished. Many long hours have been spent since early January to present this musical with a professional air.

On March 25-26 beginning at 8 p.m., the West Vocal Music Department under the direction of Mr. Ainslie will present the school musical, "The King and I." This program will be produced in the West gymnasium. The King will be portrayed by Rudy Lemus with Linda Salt portraying the schoolteacher, Anna. Lady Thiang, Linnea Dahlberg; Tupim Lun Tha by Janice Jones, and Lun Tha by Roger Guzman. are the people of Siam with which this play is centered.
