New Quo Vadis Is 'Majestic' Edifice

BY WALLY ROBERTS

A capacity crowd packed the 1,200 super-comfortable saats of Western Wayne County's newest, most lavish hardtop theater — the QUO VADIS.

VADIS.

The Shafer family, long noted for their astute showmanship, have outdistanced themselves in designing the QUO VADIS. It's a visual delight from the Roman Charicer design woven right into the sumptuous carpets to the majesty marble statues that circles the sunken lobby area.

As you enter the lobby of QUO VADIS the simple, yet QUO VADIS the simple, yet exquisite interior impresses you immediately. The basic color scheme is mauve. The openess and roomy feeling of the lobby adequately prepares you-for the 1,200 seat auditorium.

color scheme is mauve. The hospital search of the color pares you for the 1,200 seat auditorium. The auditorium, though spacious, has the cozyness of their Garden City jewelcase, the LaParisien. The Glass Boat." It is filled with rought yay, Arthur Godriey, Rought yay, Arthur Godriey, Rought yay, and Paul Lynne unreled as the premier movie in this beautiful new theater on their giant screen in sound-perfect fashion.
