B&PW Teenagers Model Old-Time Swim Fashions

The William McAllister home on Lakeside Dr. was the scene of a fashion parade Monday evening when Business and Professional Women gathered for a pool-side party. Swimsuit fashions thru the years set the pace for the teenage parade with Karen McAllister wearing a 1913 model of slate blue with pleated bloomers and a midly top, bright red stockings accented her outfit with white canvas shoes of choice as her companion she chose her toy poodle.

CAROL DURANT

Moving into the limelight in a 1916 number was Patricia Kelly, arms and neck-line exposed and gay plaid stockings meeting her pantaloons, and hair tied with a huge taffeta ribbon and pecky bow. The show continued thru the years of the late 20's and the beginning of the dressmaker era with flared skirts and chemises appearing.

The thirties showed up in black wools with cover up on their hair and then moved rapidly into the forties, the new stretch rayon appeared with its draped front followed by the fashion conscious fifties with the beginning of the daring two piece numbers.

The final brought all models out in their own cute, caesaree casual numbers and the 1966 look: a swimming exhibition of the talented group followed.
