School Bells Ring Out In G.C. Co-op Nursery

School bells are ringing for pre-schoolers these days at the Garden City Cooperative Nursery with classes which began the week of Sept. 19.

From the small world of the home and neighborhood today, the pre-schooler begins preparation as a citizen in the world and future of tomorrow. In their supervised play with children their own age, they are exposed to materials, play equipment and group experiences not usually available in the home. Included in the concept of the cooperative nursery is that of the education of the parent. Toward this purpose, the first general meeting is that of orientation which was held Monday, Sept. 12 at the Garden City Presbyterian Church. John Hauk and Middlebelt.

Chairman Donna Deschenes opened the program with a welcome and introduction of the other board members. These include Peggy Kostoff, co-chairman; Sharon Roe, secretary; Pat Klubeck, treasurer, Florine Klatt, membership; Pat Engling, equipment; Jeannie Churchill, scheduling; Sharon Hall, trip; Marge Haley, publicity.

The parent education program will continue throughout the year with required attendance at the monthly meetings and the scheduling of speakers and films to acquaint parents with the behavior and education of their children.

The teachers, Lorraine Singer and Vera Chisholm, explained the purposes and aims of the nursery and gave the new and returning mothers an opportunity to observe the play set-up on the typical nursery day and the equipment and materials available.

Applications and additional information can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Florine Klatt, at 425-0978.

Suds Kids

Did you ever stop to think of how often you rub your eyes or touch your face and lips each day? The times are as countless as the number of germs carried by dirty hands.

That's just one reason why it is so important to keep your hands clean. Wash them often with warm water and plenty of soapsuds to protect both your health and your complexion.

Pastor Krueger To Attend Institute

All Saints Lutheran Church, Livonia, announces that Pastor Krueger will attend the "Institute for Advanced Pastoral Studies" to be held at Cranbrook House in Bloomfield Hills. About 25 pastors from various Christian denominations will be fellow students. Rev. Reuel Howe, well-known theological professor and author is the director of the Institute.

Protect Batteries

Since more and more appliances and toys are battery powered these days, many homeowners like to keep extra cells handy. Batteries will deteriorate from age even when not used. A good way to prolong battery life is to place them in plastic bags and store them in the freezer.

Fall Revival To Be Oct. 23-30

Memorial Church of Christ reminds its members to set aside the week of Oct. 23 to 30 so they can attend every evening meeting of the fall revival. The evangelist will be Pearl Willis, Director of Christian Services for the Christian Restoration Association. The singing will be led by F. Elmer Nicholson, Professor of Music at Great Lakes Bible College.

Republican Women Elect New Slate

The Annual State Convention of the Republican Women's Federation of Michigan was held Sept. 22 and 23 at the Harris Motor Inn in Kalamazoo. They were hosted by The Kalamazoo Republican Women's Club.

Mrs. Fred A. Sincock is the First President of the newly formed Plymouth Area Republican Women's Club—one of the 43 new clubs formed in 1966 in the Michigan Women's Federation.

Mrs. John Salmon, of Arizona, National RWF Membership Chairman, honored the 43 presidents of new or reactivated clubs by presenting them with charters at a special ceremony. This number of new clubs in one year is a national record. "This is a dramatic and unprecedented growth of the Republican Women's Federation in any state, and the women of Michigan are to be congratulated," Mrs. Salmon said.

Mrs. Fred Sincock and Mrs. William Saxton delegate and alternate of the club and Mrs. Gordon Tallman of Livonia, a guest heard Mary Scranton wife of Pennsylvania Governor William Scranton, speak on "A Day in the Life of a Governor's Wife."

The Convention, with the theme, "Republican Women on the March," also heard a keynote address from Lenore Romney and addresses by Senator Robert Griffin and State Central Chairman Elly Peterson.

The sessions included workshops and a business meeting to consider changes in bylaws and standing committee reports.

Convention participants also honored women candidates and the candidate for University of Michigan Regent, Mrs. George J. (Trudy) Huebner, Jr.

Those interested in joining may call Mrs. Betty Fairham, membership chairman, at 455-0240.
