Jaycees To Hold Essay Contest

Farmington Jaycees and the Independence Hall of Chicago will co-sponsor an Independence Hall Essay Contest in the Farmington area this fall. The contest will be open to all Farmington school children in the seventh and eighth grades. The topic for this year's essay will be "What My American Patriotism Means to Me."
It is hoped that with this contest these leaders of tomorrow will see the relationship between America's heritage of personal freedom, private enterprise, and self government, and the astronomical progress our country has made in its short life as a nation.
A rededication to the fundamental principals that have made our country great is the aim of the contest. A Jaycee official said, "We hope that this contest will heighten student interest in the heritage of our country."
The contest will be held this fall with the winners advancing to the state level of competition. The winners of state competition will move to national competition.
