Baseball's Candy Sale Has Started

In a boy's mind, "spring" and "baseball" are synonymous, and it's that time of year for the young players of the North Farmington-West Bloomfield Baseball for Boys organization.

But it takes some work and money to field a league of 83 teams, to provide suitable baseball diamonds and new uniforms and equipment for 1200 players.

So the organization will conduct a candy sale April 29 through May 8 to raise the necessary $6,000 for expenses.

Twelve hundred boys, ages 8 through 16, will call at homes in Farmington and West Bloomfield, selling special $1 boxes of candy, in their fund-raising activity of the year.

The league is divided into five groups, according to age. There are 20 teams in the "Tee Ball" group for ages 8 and 9; 22 "Minors" teams for ages 9 and 10; 16 "Majors" teams for the 11's and 12's; seven "Pony" teams for the boys 13 and 14; and eight "Colt" teams for the oldest players, 15 and 16.

Robert Eady, 3210 Sprucewood, candy sale chairman, announced that the boys also will be working for such prizes as transistor radios, a camera, flashlight, baseball gloves, bats and baseballs to be awarded to the top candy salesmen.

Eady also stated that candy, which will be delivered, may be ordered during the sale by calling him at GR 4-0850.

And when the candy sale is over, the boys will be out practicing for their summer's schedule of 476 games, the total of all games to be played in the league.

Spring Coiffures

For All Ages

Easy Curve Coiffure

This summer style features gentle width that extends outward at the sides just above the eyebrows, tapering in again to a softly rounded top. An ety wiglet is used at the crown to add important curl detail and transform the short hair style from sportiness to a romantic mood. The soft bangs that curve across the forehead appear only when hairlines or brow requires a modification of the open-face look.
