

Robert St. John to Speak At Livonia Town Hall Nov. 16

For more than 20 years, Robert St. John has been roaming the world interviewing kings, presidents, prime ministers, sultans, sheiks, and other headline figures. He will discuss half a dozen personalities currently in the news, telling stories of their philosophy, their politics and their personalities, discussing their attitudes toward the United States, toward democracy, and toward their neighbors.

This is the second lecture in the 1966-67 series presented by Livonia Town Hall and the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth. Tickets for out of town guests are available at the door for $3 if purchased by a season ticket holder. Tickets for the remaining three lectures are now $6.50.

READING HER PAINTINGS for the Nov. 14 through Nov. 19, is Joyce John, Fashion and Art Show at the Pontiac Mall, artist from Redford.

Area Artists Exhibit At Fashion and Art Show

An entirely new idea is being presented, that of a Fashion and Art Show coordinated. Many local artists, as well as others from several states and the metropolitan areas, will be participating. This idea originated with Betty Baldwin, Director of The Artist's Showplace Agency.

Betty Baldwin will introduce the artists and give a brief description of the paintings. This new innovation is expected to draw large crowds to the Pontiac Mall on Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake Roads, starting Nov. 14 through Nov. 19.

Barbara Peterson will be presiding with early American wood plaques, then Cecile Schaefer with decoupage, bags and boxes and Dorothy Mortlock from Detroit with hand-made jewelry, to name only a few who will participate in the Fashion and Art Show at the Pontiac Mall starting Monday, open from 9:30 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.

"Women of Kendallwood Farms" Expand Into "Women of North Farmington"

The Women of Kendallwood Farms voted for a change of name last month. They will be known as the Women of North Farmington.

This group started in 1957 as a newcomers club, then grew to become in 1959 "The Women of Kendallwood Farms," and now in 1966 is expanding and progressing beyond its present boundaries to embrace all of the North Farmington area.

Call Nancy Dhure, membership chairman at GR 4-212 if you want to become a Woman of North Farmington.

On Nov. 18 there will be the opportunity to spend an afternoon that will afford a most unusual experience, a tour of the kitchens of the Consumers Power Co.

There will be an inspection of equipment, a change of arrangements, and plans saving.
