

Puzzled Sister Wonders About Missing Kin

How could it happen? A happy person with a happy family and apparently, as far as we know, no financial difficulties. How can someone like that suddenly disappear from the face of the earth?

Safe Boating Course Offered At Stevenson

Basic Seamanship and Safe Boat Handling, a free course, will be offered by the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary, Flotilla 12-S, at Stevenson Senior High, 33500 Six Mile Rd., near Farmington Rd., Livonia.

Classes will start March 14 and will meet each Tuesday for eight weeks. Registration will be taken at Stevenson High on March 14 at 7 p.m. Thereafter, classes will meet at 7:30 p.m. on each Tuesday.

Some of the material to be covered will include: nautical language; engines, inboard and outboard; knot tying and splicing; basic navigation; compass and charts; piloting; and rules of the road.

All students successfully completing the course will receive an official United States Coast Guard Certificate.

The course tuition is free, but there will be a small charge to cover the cost of textbook, charts, rope for knot tying, etc.

Men, women and children over 14 are invited to attend. If you own a rowboat or a cruiser, planning to buy one, have a good friend that owns one, or just interested in boating, you will definitely benefit from a basic course of this type.

For additional information call Past Commander Ron Patterson, KE 1-8318, or Training Officer Dean LeFeve, VA 1-2321.

These are the unanswered questions going through the mind of Mrs. Mary Breen, 41121 Greenbrook Lane, Plymouth, in the Lake Pointe subdivision, these days.

It was Mrs. Breen's brother, Anthony Volante, young manager of the Wrigley supermarket, 1555 Fort Lincoln Park, who vanished three weeks ago and hasn't been heard of since.

Volante closed his store for the night, loaded his station wagon with groceries for his family and drove to his home at 7531 August, Westland.

But he never unloaded the groceries and never went into the house. He hasn't been seen since. He may be dead, although Mrs. Breen doesn't want to believe this possibility.

Police and his employers believe he was kidnapped and forced to participate in a robbery. What happened after that is a mystery.

The same night, someone entered the supermarket, opened the safe and made off with $2,558. The safe was one which can be opened by combination or key. It was not forced.

Police theorize that Volante was followed home by bandits who kidnapped him and forced him to open the store and the safe.

Mrs. Volante reported him missing when she returned from bowling and found the station wagon in the garage, the bags of groceries still on the front seat.

His employers scoff at the idea Volante may have taken the money. So does his sister. She can't believe her brother would be involved in anything like that since there "wasn't a need for such an action."

But the days are getting longer for Mrs. Breen as time rolls on with no clues, no place for the Police to go and even the FBI has reported it is at the end of the road although still searching. "No one likes to mention the word 'dead,'" she said, "but the longer we wait, the more we wonder. How can anyone just vanish? Seems impossible in this day and age but it has happened."
