Dearborn Heights Duo Tops Mixed Doubles

Fires 1419 to Lead Pin Tourney

Bowlers in the fifth annual Merit-Bowl Lanes-Observer Newspapers mixed doubles tournament have something to shoot at in the remaining two nights of fire—thru Sunday ends Sunday night.

And there's a fat 1,419 count for duos to shoot at during the final rounds on Saturday and Sunday.

It came a week ago when the team of Alda Quilton and Richard Quilton, of 586 W. Waverly, Dearborn Heights fired the biggest count in the tourney history. They not only have the lead but they are way in front of their nearest competitors.

Despite the huge score, Tournament Director Mac Goldman is looking forward to the biggest turnout of the 1967 event as bowlers from all sections of the state and northern Ohio try to better the top score.

Mrs. Quilton, who packs a 155 average, did her bit in the fat count with 206 in the opener, 152 in the second and 183 in the finale for a 541 total.

RU Star Hurt; Lost For Season

The sandlot baseball season is over sooner than expected for Leland Bjerkie of Redford Township's Connie Mack and Free Press League teams.

The first baseman on the Observer newspapers' All-star prep team suffered a fractured collarbone during a collision in a game last Friday.

"There's no chance he can return to action this summer," said coach Bob Atkins, who handled Bjerkie at Redford Union.

Bjerkie was a three-sport star at RU, shining in football, basketball and baseball. He has received a basketball scholarship from Eastern Michigan University where he will enroll in the fall.

Bjerkie was voted the outstanding prep basketball player in the area last season.

3 Sports Star Ron Lowe Is Best of Rocks

Ron Lowe, a co-captain in football, basketball and track, has been named the outstanding senior athlete at Plymouth High School.

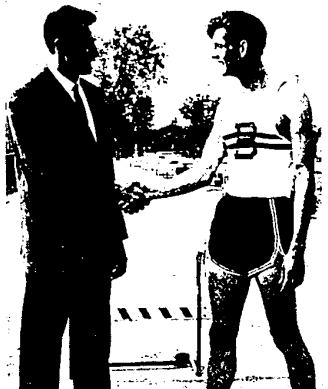

Lowe received his award at a school assembly and was honored with other senior athletes at a banquet staged by the Kiwanis Club in Plymouth.

Michigan State's Al Dorow was the featured speaker.

But her partner hit the hottest streak of the year as he compiled scores of 332, 267 and 244 for a 743 series, highest ever in the tournament.

His middle game was marked with nine strikes. More than that he ended the opener with five in a row and started the second with a four more for nine straight.

All told he had a total of 25 strikes in the three games, and only two misses. He moved. These included: Louise CONGRATULATIONS: They are in order two ways as coach Ron Fedrow of Bentley High converses with Ken Jackson, his team's star hurdler. Jackson was hailed as the prep track athlete-of-the-year in the area while Fedrow was picked as co-track coach of the year.

Observing SPORTS

By George Maskin

Few among us—especially older folks—don't get the urge of working at something other than what we do.

The grass always tends to look greener across the street.

In our case, we always have had the travel bug. In our younger days we'd envy the train engineer or conductor. It was exciting to see the train which was heading out of the Michigan Central depot for New York or Chicago.

It really was a thrill to see a train headed for California or Florida whiz past.

Nowadays, we look with starry eyes at airplane pilots and stewardesses, particularly those who are flying the long hauls to the west coast, Florida, England or maybe someplace else across an ocean.

Travel agents and tour directors also cause a certain flurry within us.

Until a few days ago, locales like the Top of the Mart, the Golden Gate Bridge, Alcatraz, the cable cars and even windy Candlestick Park were just spots across San Francisco, Calif., which we either had heard about or read about.

Then within a span of 4 1/2 hours, we discovered that all truly exist.

There we were, hanging on a Cable car with the motor-man clanging away with a sound never before heard by our ears.

You found yourself standing at Fisherman's Wharf and looking across the bay at the most famed prison the U. S. ever operated. There was the rock—Alcatraz.

But it's no longer a penal institution. They say the cells are cracking up . . . that the cost of repairing the Rock would be too much.

So you look and say to yourself: "Gee, it's not that far out in the water that a guy couldn't swim ashore." No one ever did, however.

Taking nothing away from the Greater Detroit area, you have to admit that San Francisco ranks as one of the beauty cities of our country.

There are very few level streets. You're either going up or down.

It's breath-taking to look down at the city from one of the Twin Peaks, or from the top of the Fairmount Hotel, or the tower a mile or so away.

A trip across the Golden Gate Bridge and a glance back at San Francisco cause more fancy adjectives. Our good friend, George E. Van of sailing fame, would have

19 Whiffed On Sandlots

Talk about your pitching masterpieces!

Bill Ray, a product of Belleville high who may be signed any hour by the Baltimore Orioles, turned in one of the books in pitching Dependable Hardehrome of Redford to a 6-2 win over Garden City Sporting Goods in the Greater Livonia-Detroit Free Press League.

Ray fanned 19 batters in the game. He also threw out one man, thus personally ally figuring in 20 of the 21 putouts Dependable fashioned in the game.

He lost his chance for a shutout when Carl Stevens slapped a triple with two on—both on walks.

Ray himself slugged two hits while Bob Holmes blasted a homer to get the Township team off on the right foot.
