Councilman Howard
Thayer, who is a member of the Zoning Board, stated that he thought Mrs. Louys had gotten "on the agenda of the Zoning Board under false prefenses and I'm all through" with the matter.

Two customers of the shop,
Mrs. William Liva of, Hillcrest Ave., Farmington, and Mrs. Helen Meyer of Westland, pleaded with the Council to reconsider the matter.

cil to reconsider the matter. Mrs. Live sold in Council that Mrs. Louys' shep had "helped make Farraington" for her and that the town needed a shop like this. "People don's need big department stores," has asserted, "and the women will go to Birmingham or even Rochester to shop if you do this."

Mrs. Meyer asserted him. Mrs. Lies told im Council that Mrs. Louys' shop had "helped make Farm ington" for her and that the town needed a shop like this. "People don't need hig department stores." she asserted. "and the women will go to Birmingham or even Rochester to shop if you do this."

Mrs. Meyer asserted that he had been coming to the shop for 18 years and that 'it is not fair to take a business away from a woman and that's what you are doing."
