Temple Beth Am, LJC Terminate Trial Merger

The Livonia Jewish Congregation and Temple Beth Am have ended their trial period for a proposed merger, effective May 31.

After two months it was decided that the basic differences in their traditional Temple Beth Am will re-institute its program at the United Hebrew School at W. Seven Mile and Auburndale.

The Livonia Jewish Congregation recently installed Marcus Bass as its president and Shalom Ungar as president of the congregation's sisterhood.

Other officers for the LJC were Raymond Zech, first vice president and membership chairman; Eddie Schwartz, second vice president and fund raising chairman; Marvin Fagan, treasurer;

Helen Bayles, recording secretary; Sam Siegel, corresponding secretary, and Dr. Larry Shulman, Seymour Ungar, Carl Curtis, Aaron Kraft and Martin Katz, trustees.

Working with Mrs. Ungar on the Sisterhood board will be Vivian Altschul, membership vice president; Rae Siegel and Shirley Tapfer, ways and means vice presidents;

Joyce Bass, program vice president; Ethel Hoffman, treasurer; Sylvia Braunstein, recording secretary; Betty Schwartz, corresponding secretary; and Dorothy Knapp, financial secretary.

Directors are Louise Cinnam, Dorothy Herman, Sally Katz, Jocelyn Krieger, Pearl Markin, Irene Adelstein and Dorothy Block.

Again this year Max Hoffman will be director of the LJC's Sunday School with Martin Katz as chairman of the Education Committee.

Albert Baruch will be good and welfare committee, Howard Beck will be chairman of the religious committee and Irene Salmons will continue as publicist.

Tommy Salmons will continue as chairman of the men's club which will shortly begin reorganizing. Anyone wishing further information may call the synagogue office, GA 5-8770; President Bass, GR 6-0858 or Mrs. Ungar, Sisterhood president, GR 6-0111.

Girls' Trio

To Sing at Riverside

The Symphonettes Trio representing Anderson College in Indiana, will appear at the Riverside Park Church of God, Plymouth and Newburgh Roads, Livonia, on Sunday, July 2.

The Rev. J. Clifford Thor, pastor, said the service, beginning at 9:45 a.m., will consist of sacred songs, hymns and spirituals. The public is invited.

Members of the trio are Eileen Snider, Saint Paris, O.; Kay Verden, Saginaw; Colette Beach, Sanford, Mich.; and Linda Farst, Coldwater, Mich., at the piano.

These students are part of some 125 students involved in Student Summer Service (TSS) projects around the world.

The group's summer schedule will include concerts in Kentucky, Tennessee, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, and Illinois.

THE CRUSADER MEN. Gregory Mills (left), bard; Charles White-Tenn; and Ronald L. Hood, pianist, will appear July 3 in a special end music program at Calvary Baptist Church on Jay Road.

David R. Whitney is the manager of the Harris Chapel, Harris Funeral Homes, on Farmington Road just north of Five Mile. A 1939 graduate of Warshaw College of Mortuary Science, he has over 26 years of service. In his profession, 18 with Harris. A dedicated family man and member of Union Rotary Club, he takes an active interest in community and church affairs. He collects stamps, plays golf and chess.

By location, education and experience, David Whitney exemplifies the excellence of the Harris staff.
