Singing Group Winds Up Tour

Musical Youth International 1967 tour group returned home August 10 after a whirlwind post-European tour. The itinerary included Flint, Havelock and Ottawa, Canada, Expo 87, Red Bank, N.J., and Gettysburg, Penn. Standing ovations greeted these teenage people-to-people musical ambassadors at every concert.

Mersey Sets Concert Benefit For September

Mersey College of Detroit will open its 1967-68 concert season with a gala benefit attraction, "The John Gary Show," in Ford Auditorium, Thursday, Sept. 14. Appearing with Gary will be Susan Barrett, a new singing star.

Both Gary and Barrett are established artists with a long list of recordings and television appearances to their credit. Gary, who still looks like an angelic choir boy, recorded his 13th album for RCA Victor this summer. His program here will include what might be called his "trade-mark" favorites, as well as new songs which he has helped transform into established hits.

Wayne State Sets Conference On Adult Growth

A two-day conference on "Adult Development: Research and Practice" will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 28-29 at the McGraw-Hill Conference Center at Wayne State University.

The conference is designed to help counselors bridge the gap between theory, research and practice in adult development and guidance in both the fields of education and business. It is being sponsored by the WSU College of Education and the Department of Conferences and Institutes.

Further information may be obtained from the Department of Conferences and Institutes, Wayne State University, Telephone: TE 3-1400, Ext. 7515.
