

FARMS AND VILLAGE PROPERTY

THE GRAND RIVER SECTION

My time is devoted to farms in the vicinity of Redford and Farmington and to village property in these two growing towns.

I have large and small farms of varying prices and have a large number of houses in town for sale. Am also local agent for vacant lots in the leading subdivisions of the two villages.

I need more farms and houses to meet the demand. See me if you want to sell.

BEFORE DAYS OF JOE MILLER

Joke That Presumably Had Its Origin in Fertile Brains Thousands of Centuries Ago.

A statue of King Dugud, who lived and reigned about 3000 B. C., has been discovered by Dr. Edward J. Banks, an American paleontologist, among the ruins of the buried city of Adab, Babylonia. (The statue, damaged and restored, is now in the museum at Constantinople. The dispatch also contains an ancient joke that was found written on one of the walls of Adab.)

One morning a judge's neighbors complained of a noise that had disturbed them the previous night.

"There was no noise in my house last night," asserted the judge.

"Don't tell me that," the neighbors replied. "There was such a disturbance that we could not sleep."

The judge slowly stroked his long beard and then concluded that some time during the night his wife had kicked his nightshirt downstairs. "It must have been that," he said.

"Oh, no, judge," cried his neighbors. "There was a terrible noise that would not have been made by any such thing as a nightshirt."

"Well, you see," said the judge, "I was in the shirt!" Youth's Companion.

MAKES A UNIVERSAL APPEAL

Followers of the Walk: Find a Great Attraction in Old-Fashioned Window Shopping.

"One touch of nature makes the whole world akin." And to watch a certain store window downtown leads one to believe an analogous conclusion might apply to fishing, with the bonds of sympathy perhaps only a little less inclusive.

If the window is a miniature mill-pond. On the bank a venerable fisherman peacefully smokes, and now and then his fishing cork bobs under with a confidence that is startling. Any mild spring day one may find a fasciated group of men intently watching that cork. The drowsy old man does not heed the tug of the line, and it is too good for the imagination of any man who has ever felt the pull of a fish and its grilling resistance as the lift of the pole draws it out. There is a sympathetic glance among men who stop there, and when they pass on each seems to year for a smile. — Ludanapoli News.

PURE ABSENT MINDEDNESS

A hundred telegrams have been sent out by the General Electric company to trace a seven-ton transformer which has been mislaid and which seems able to find. This evidence of absent mindedness reminds of the dire catastrophes that might befall if all were as negligent as the responsible party, who probably put the transformer in the pocket of an old coat and forgot to mail it. — New York Sun.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN A HINT

"When I asked Miss Peacher what time it was the other night she said, 'Oh, it is still the year 1913.' What do you suppose she meant by that?"

"I'm not sure, Gadaday, but if I had been in your place I would have said, 'Good night!'"

SERVES THE NOTICES

"There goes my uncle, the clubman. He moves in the best circles."

"There goes my uncle, the bailiff. He helps to keep your uncle moving."

THE ABSENT-ONES

Mr. Plumbub—Reply to an afternoon bridge party, oh! I suppose you talked about every one there.

Mrs. Plumbub—Certainly not. About every one who wasn't there.

HAPPENED IN REAL-LIFE

"Now, here's the plumber come to fix the pipe."

"All right, son. Ask him how long it will take him to go after his tools."

JUST IN TIME

"I heard only the tail end of the joke."

"But that is the waggiest part of it."

COST ACCORDING

"Aviation is an expensive matter, isn't it?"

"Well, naturally, it makes the modest fly."
