Garrick Theatre--Detroit

Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw, the most talked of woman in the world, will begin an engagement of one week at the Garrick Theatre, Detroit, commencing Monday afternoon next, in a musical divertissement, "Mariette," by Maurice Volvy from a successful engagement at the Alhambra Theatre, London. Mrs. Thaw is supported by a company of seventy-five, including a ballet of sixty.

Mrs. Thaw has recently returned to the stage. For six years after the unfortunate affair with which her name was connected she remained in seclusion perfecting herself in her chosen profession, the stage. It was not until this spring when she thought that all notoriety connected with her name had died down that she decided to appear.

It was not until Mrs. Thaw's artistic success in London was assured that she accepted an engagement to appear in America. On her appearance in New York she was judged entirely on her artistic merits and was enthusiastically praised. In appearing outside of New York Mrs. Thaw has carefully avoided any publicity which bordered upon the sensational.

Mrs. Thaw's dancing partner, Jack Clifford, will be seen in this production, and one of the principal features is a ballet of five from the direction of Emil August, of the Alhambra theatre, London.

There will be a popular priced matinee every day during Mrs. Thaw's appearance here.

The Flame of Acetylene Light Is Small and the Burner Peculiar

You have probably noticed that a Pilot Country Home Acetylene burner is shaped like the letter "Y."

And, that the little gas opening in the arms of the burner are only pin hole size.

So small they let out only half of a cubic foot of Acetylene in an hour.

You might leave one of these Acetylene burners open by accident all day--and even then there wouldn't be gas enough in the air of the room to enable you to set fire to it if you tried.

As a matter of fact, you would have to leave this burner open fully three days and nights in a room twelve by fourteen, with windows and doors closed tight, before there would be any fire or explosion danger whatever.

And the chance of your leaving a burner open that long is next to nothing. The pungent odor of the escaping gas would be certain to attract attention in a few seconds.

Insurance Reports Say

That in a list of 19,000 recent fires and accidents caused by illuminants, 9990 were charged to the misuse and abuse of electricity, kerosene, gasoline and city gas and only ten to the misuse and abuse of Acetylene.

That's why the engineers of the National Insurance Fund have endorsed Acetylene. They say it's safer than all illuminants it is rapidly displacing.

Comparing Country Home Acetylene to its first cousin, city gas, we find:

That a standard city gas burner actually wastes over ten times more gas in giving more light than a standard Acetylene burner.

That one hundred feet of Acetylene actually gives more light than a thousand feet of city gas.

That you could keep under an open Acetylene burner without harm--whereas excepting city gas you can't be so near without harm.

This does not mean that the twenty million people who use city gas with safety and comfort are not enjoying the greatest of all city conveniences.

They surely are--but with the question of the hundred and ten thousand (250,000) residences who use home made Acetylene for lighting and cooking have all the best of it.

The farmer's pure white Acetylene light shining from handsome burners makes the most beautiful home illumination in the world. It makes, too, an equally effective light in the special fixtures fastened solidly to the timbers and ceiling of his porches, barns and outbuildings.

He can and usually does equip all these lights with ignition attachments to light with the pull of a rubber chain or rod--without matches.

For the Woman Folks

There is also the Acetylene cooking range.

These ranges are very similar to those used in city homes throughout the world. They have the four top burners, high oven, glass front, hot heat indicator and all the modern labor saving features.

No less than two hundred and fifty thousand country families are tonight gaily around Acetylene lighting tables and eat food cooked on Acetylene ranges.

Most of these families make their own gas. Those who make it to best advantage use

Pilot Lighting Plants

These Pilot plants are strictly automatic. They simply require filling the gas tank and burning once a month--they do all the rest.

We have been making and perfecting them since Acetylene was introduced fifteen years ago. Today we are the largest manufacturers of these plants in the world. We sell them through representatives in a thousand towns and cities and ship plants complete--Pipes, burners, lighting fixtures and more, from our three big factories.

An eastern factory in Newark--a central factory in Chicago and a western factory in Los Angeles.

You will find all the facts and figures in our illustrated catalogue. In writing for it, state how many rooms and buildings you wish to light and how many people in your family. Address:
