Tickets are currently being sold for the 1967-1968 series of the Franklin Forum. The four program series is sponsored annually by the Friends of the Franklin Library. The library is a private, non-profit community library and is one of two such organizations in the state.

Eisenhower, is currently lecturer in residence at Michigan's Northwestern Institute. His topics of the institute include: history, philosophy and the American way of life.

A former analyst on foreign affairs and the Middle East for The Detroit News, Barnes will discuss "China."

White, a resident of Franklin, is professor of journalism at Wayne State University and is an authority on Ernest Hemingway. This year he is on a leave of absence from WSU to complete the unpublished works of Walt Whitman.

The Detroit Free Press' "Action Line" will be described by staff member Lois Sutherland in the final program.

Poetry-In Motion Set

Dancer-artist Marguerite Lundgren-Harwood will perform at the University of Michigan Oct. 7.

But the eurythmists' poetry in motion will be little like that seen in the Michigan-Navy football game that afternoon. Eurythmics has been called a "classic modern" dance like art. It expresses the sounds, rhythms, moods, and meanings of words and music through its own flow, movements, and gestures.

Mrs. Lundgren-Harwood, the head of London's School of Eurythmics, is making her first American tour.

The words will be read by her husband, A.C. Harwood. The music will be performed by pianist J.A. Hollander, a graduate student in U-M's School of Music.

Tickets at $1.25 will be sold at the door.

Children's Musical Scheduled

The third president of the United States is the hero of "Young Tom Jefferson," a play set to music which is the season's first offering in the Detroit Children's Theatre series at the Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium Saturday, Oct. 14.

The performances, at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m., introduce Jefferson as a boy of 17 growing up in Virginia 25 years before the American Revolution. Scenes in the Raleigh Tavern and the mansion of the influential Randolph family will recreate the colonial period, as well as the songs and dances that further the plot. The cast is a professional company from New York City.

This is the first of a series of eight live theater programs for children and young adults, sponsored by the museum's Theatre Arts Department in line with its policy of bringing to Detroit live theater of special appeal and interest for school age children.

Tickets are available at the Detroit Institute of Arts ticket office (532-2730), as well as J.L. Hudson, Grinnell's and Sears ticket services.

French Film Slated

"The Seven Deadly Sins," a French movie directed by Claude Autant-Lara, will be shown at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 7, in the Community Arts Auditorium at Wayne State University. Admission is $1, with a reduced rate of 75 cents for students.

Wayne Civic Players Begin New Season

The Wayne Civic Players has announced the 1967-68 season. The first production will be "A Thirder Carnival" followed by "The Park at the Top of the Stairs" and "Barefoot in the Park."

The individual cost will be $1.50 for each of the three plays. An advance season's ticket is now being made available at $4.

Student tickets, individual and season's, are half price. Anyone can contribute their creative energy towards any or all of the many facets of community theater through membership in the Wayne Civic Players.

Metro Park Offers Film

A new 16 mm film in color showing the parks and facilities of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority is now available to civic, church and other organizational groups throughout the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washington and Wayne.

The film is entitled "Recreation Unlimited" and showing time is 37 minutes, with sound narration on film. Usually an authority representative accompanies the film, which shows scenes of such well-known parks as Metropolitan Beach near Mt. Clemens, Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Utica, Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford, Hudson Mills Metropolitan Park near Ann Arbor and Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville.

Singletons Set Meeting

The Dearborn-Livonia Singletons will hold a dinner meeting Friday, Oct. 13 at the Continental Congress Inn on Michigan Ave. in Dearborn.

The evening begins with a social hour at 6:30 p.m., followed by dinner at 7:30 p.m., and then a business meeting followed by the program.

For information about the meeting or the organization contact Beverly Pickles at VE, 6-0343 or Susie Alvirani at LO, 3-9362.

Floors in Color

An exciting innovation in floors is oak in handsome decorator colors—pink, blue, yellow, green, even ebony and white. Colors are achieved with separate stain or colored penetrating seal, which don't hide the grain.
