STUDY ON ALASKA — As part of their study this year of the 49th state, 4th and 5th grade pupils at William Grace School put on a display about Alaska for their schoolmates on Monday. Susan Hagopian, at right, dressed to resemble an Eskimo, explains different types of Eskimo costumes to Carol Parry and Dawn Jaggers.

TOTEM POLES—Walter Kurzeja (center) tells the fascinating story of an Eskimo totem pole to (left to far right) Kevin Kahrin, Billy Kin and Darlene Soderstrom.

Driver Film Coming

Slot cars, novel photographic techniques and the first lady of American youth are featured in a new color movie which will be presented to students of North Farmington High School on Wednesday, Dec. 6, according to Kenneth Dean, audiovisual education director.

The 14-minute movie, "Be An A-C-E (alert, courteous, educated) Driver," was made available to the local organization by the Chevrolet Motor Division as a part of its nationwide program of assistance to driver education.

Need Jobs For Young Workers

Mrs. Robert Smith, chairman of the youth work sub-committee of the Farmington Youth Guidance Committee, is asking for anyone in the community who wants someone to "spot" jobs to contact her.

The youth work committee acts as a clearing house for people who want odd jobs done. These may include lawn cutting, window washing, baby sitting, house cleaning and so on.

Young people who are looking for work are requested to direct their applications to the Youth Guidance Committee, in care of Mrs. Smith, 21109 Laurelwood, Farmington, 48024.

The application should indicate the type of work preferred and the amount of payment expected.

BEGINNERS LUCK? Some of you may think so while others will choose to believe it was due to the professional-type training. Danny, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Riley of 11 Mide Rd., bagged a two-point buck on his first official hunting expedition in Oscoda County.

This wasn't Danny's first just out to the Michigan wilderness. Last year, he participated in being a walker because he was not old enough to tote a gun. He observed well, listened well and learned well from his father.

There were 10 in the hunting party, including Mrs. Delores Riley's dad, John W. Dally from Redford Township. Six of the 10 bagged their deer.

During the year of our heaviest snowstorm, a couple of years back, George Riley, who then, with his family lived in Garden City, was awarded a trophy from the Garden City paper for the largest deer bagged by a Wayne County resident.

The young Rileys, Gary, Michael, George Jr., and Kimberly, along with their mother, await patiently each year for the hunters to return home with their glorious treasure, the bagged deer.

THE FRANKLIN Knolls Women's Club recently enjoyed a "Harvest Hootdown" at the Teepees Barn. After dinner, the group participated in round and square dancing.

The Club's President, Sue Brooks of Tratham Ct., reports the success was due to the Committee, headed up by Clara Roush, of Briar Crest, chairman; Fanny Walker of Merrybrook, Ernestine Cartwright of Cambourne Ave, Corky Couliere residing on Country House, Chris Laker of Merrybrook Ave, and Lucille Bowles of Castlereigh Rd.

On a two-week stay with

Warren and Mary Swan of Danford, their daughter, son-in-law and grandchildren, David Kathleen, Gregory and Joanne, were Mr. and Mrs. John P. Bunce from Buffalo, N.Y. A second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bunce, Mrs. Vincent P. Crowe, also from Buffalo, joined the group for the week-end.

The Zelos, Alice and Joe of Chesterbrook, motored West for a three-week trip, in Orange, Calif., they visited Alice's brother's family, Mr. and Mrs. Weston Paul for a couple of days. Then, they motored up to San Francisco where they visited with their daughter Bonnie, who is a Project Designer for a Publishing Co. in San Francisco.
