GOING UP 'CURTAIN'

"Off with her head" roars the Queen of Hearts as poor Alice stands perplexed, frustrated, confused.

The Eastern Michigan Children's Theatre production of "Alice in Wonderland" gave adults and children, last week, a chance to see our tangled lives by holding a theatrical mirror up to our complex society.

Startling scenic effects, early in the handsomely-costumed "Alice" production, had the kids in the audience gasping with delight. Stage sets grew taller as Alice grew smaller. Her flight through space evoked memories of Mary Poppins and Peter Pan. The Chessie Cat vanished in a blinding light and a puff of smoke.

STAGE MANAGER, Charles Costler, and scenic designer, George Bird, are to be commended for their brilliant technical effects and fast-paced movement of "Alice in Wonderland".

Christy Anspach, wild-eyed and disturbed, projected her concern vividly and most ingratiatingly. Her rapport, so necessary in a title role for children's theatre, kept the youthful audience involved and responsive for their entire hour and a half stay in Wonderland.

Director Virginia Koste did double duty by being responsible for the script used in this captivating production of "Alice in Wonderland". Children Theatre scripts are not easy to locate, at least not effective scripts.

Schoolcraft Film Has Cynical Theme

The Schoolcraft College Friday Night film series will present "Viridiana", directed by Luis Bunuel and written by Bunuel and Julio Alejandro, at 3 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Friday, Dec. 1, in the amphitheater in the Forum on campus. The Spanish film has English subtitles. There is no admission charge.

In exile in Mexico since 1939, Bunuel accepted an invitation from Franco to return to his native Spain in 1961. He was offered government financing to make a film. "Viridiana" was the result.

Two days after the film was the Grand Prix at Cannes, Franco saw it for the first time. He dismissed his minister of culture, ordered a press blackout and banned the film. It is not difficult to see why.

Auditions Scheduled

Another challenge for Dearborn Civic Theatre will be its presentation of "Anything Goes", Cole Porter's musical comedy, as the entertainment for Telephone Employees Credit Union's 32nd annual meeting, March 9, in Ford Auditorium. The Credit Union expects a crowd of 3,000 to attend the meeting.

Robert Ors, the theater director, is looking for a cast of around 50 people.
