

Farmington Dons Its Holiday Best

ICY WALK FOR CHRISTMAS -- The streets were covered with sleet, but more than 200 people made the rounds of 10 beautifully decorated Farmington homes last weekend for the Christmas walk sponsored by the Hill and Dale Garden Club. Here, Darlene Bubouay, of Ferndale, admires a Madonna set in a serene corner of the G. C. Reimold home on Ridgewood Drive.

RED VELVET ON THE TREE -- Tiny fruit and toy ornaments, all covered in red velvet, trimmed the tree on the G. C. Reimold's sun porch. Joanne Boyd, of Farmington, stops to examine the unusual trim.

Polley Defends New Code

"A concerted attack on the problems of teacher supply in Michigan education is certain to solve whatever shortage now exists," says State Sup. of Public Instruction Ira Polley. The teacher shortage was the primary reason for a teacher certification code change endorsed last week by the State Board of Education. The change would permit rehiring of substitute teachers so that they could teach a full school year in districts unable to find replacements. Teacher groups have attacked it.

"The code has to change occasionally," Polley said. "It will be both worthless and dangerously restrictive if it cannot adapt to meet education's problems on today's terms."

"I am, however, fully convinced that the challenges can be met successfully with the change we seek because this change provides the capability to wrestle with problems head-on as they arise," he said.

"The change will help those Michigan schools with acute teacher shortages, will assure that the best teachers available are teaching and yet in no way will open any floodgates for unqualified teachers to pour into our schools," Polley said.

Even if we filled this space with thousands of items in fine print we couldn't begin to list all the unusual articles collected from around the world for your special Christmas buying.
