SCENES LIKE THIS were common Monday as traffic tried to move against the heaviest snow-fall of the winter. This car skidded off Six Mile

Road in Livonia and the driver just hiked on down the road to try and get a wrecker to pull him back on the highway.

John Coulet

New President Of Engineers

John J. Coulet, of Plymouth, has been elected President of the Society of County Engineers of Wayne County, a professional society for graduate and registered engineers, architects and land surveyors employed by Wayne County.
In 1951 he joined the Wayne County Road Commission where he holds the title of Assistant Engineer of Streets. He is a registered civil engineer.

Coulet and his wife Madeline have two sons, Todd and Sean, and two daughters, Lisa and Tammy, and reside at 15037 Thornridge Avenue.

Engineers Can Name Price

ANN ARBOR—Christmas is over, but engineering students at The University of Michigan are just beginning to shop in earnest.

From January to March more than 450 employers from across the country will recruit on campus, competing for the services of almost 700 students who will receive degrees in April and August.

THE U-M College of Engineering, which ranks fifth nationally in the number of degrees conferred, expects to award about 340 bachelor's degrees, 300 master's degrees, and 40 doctorates this spring and summer.

The recipients will be shopping among starting salary packages averaging $758, $904, and $1,310 for the three degree levels.

These "salary" expectations are up 5 to 7 per cent from last year, according to Prof. John Young, director of the college's placement service. Doctoral candidates can look forward to the greatest average increase. The demand for them has pushed last spring's $1,210 average up by $100.

YOUNG, WHO MAKES his salary predictions on the basis of reports from recently interviewed students, finds that newly graduated metallurgical engineers can expect especially high average salaries this year.

Beginning chemical, electrical, and mechanical engineers' pay level should be slightly over the average.

for jobs. Young's placement service has published a "yellow pages" directory listing prospective employers and the dates they will be interviewing on campus.

The directory runs alphabetically from Abbot Laboratories through White Motor Co., and includes more than 30 federal agencies.
