

Bentley Topples Flint 5

Imagine scoring only six points in a period and still winning BIG.

It happened Tuesday when Bentley High's wonderful basketball team rolled past Flint Northwestern, 55-44, in a non-league game.

Fortunately for Bentley, the team had a 32-23 lead going into the third period, which turned out to be a nightmare, as far as scoring was concerned for the Livonians.

Coach George Fefes' squad managed only two baskets and two free throws in the eight-minute span.

Notwithstanding, Bentley still was in front, 38-34, after three quarters.

Then just as fast as the Livonians had lost their shooting touch, they regained it—and in the closing eight minutes Bentley overwhelmed Northwestern, 27-10, to win going away.

IT WAS the ninth victory in 11 starts for Bentley, which staked an unbeaten record in Southern State League action. Flint's Frank Wright, Ken Bellin, Dan Doyle and Leroy Watson each had four points to get Bentley rolling in the first period. Walt Blacha chipped in with two to pace the second stanza.

Then in the last period, it was Bellin with three baskets and five free throws who helped turn the game into a runaway.

Bellin would up as the top scorer with 17 points while Doyle and Norm Hurlbert had 12 each and Blacha nine.

Bentley had a much easier time in its 51-54 blitzing of Alten Park the previous Friday.

Bellin cashed in 30 points, Doyle 16 and Carlson 10 for the Livonians, who now shape up as the team to beat for league honors.

Next Tuesday Bentley goes against arch-city rival Franklin in what figures to be another interesting battle between the two schools.

But Bentley would appear to have too many weapons for the contingent from Joy Road.

New Houseboat

On Display In

Show At Cobo

Four major new features will highlight the sixth annual Michigan National Boat, Sports and

Vacation Show, at Cobo Hall

Jan. 27-Feb. 4.

Perhaps the most striking of these will be the public

debut of the first houseboat ever to be manufactured by Chris Craft. The two largest salboats to ever be displayed at the Boat Show in Michigan,

a 50-foot Columbia and a 40-foot Cai, will be displayed.

A new camper-boat product,

the Hobo, will be introduced to Michigan boat show audiences

for the first time.

A Canadian project, the Hobo is a camper trailer which converts into an amphibious power boat.

By the way, the Hobo

By George Maskin observing sports

There he was — Bill Freehan, being honored by the Detroit chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America as the Tiger of the year in 1967.

That was the year, you remember, when the Tigers went down to the last game of the season before being nipped by Boston for the American League title.

As you stood reminiscing with Freehan, both your thoughts had to jump back some 20 years. You were living on Cheyenne Avenue in Detroit.

Freehan's parents, the elderly couple by the name of Freehan.

Their grandson was a frequent visitor, a kid then of five or six. His name: Billy Freehan.

Billy, his dad and his granddad, the latter now deceased, would stand out in front of their home and play catch. Little Billy was pretty adept with the glove — even in those days.

As the years moved on, Billy moved to Florida with his parents.

You didn't see too much of him until around his senior year in high school. He came back to Detroit to visit and to play summer sandlot baseball.

By that time, Billy had become one of the most prized baseball youngsters in the country. He could hit and play catch. He also was a while of a football player.

WHEN HE FINISHED high school, Billy had a chance — he could either sign professionally in baseball or go to college. He picked the University of Michigan.

It was after his freshman year at the university you had the pleasure of escorting Bill to New York for the Hearst National baseball game.

He again was offered big money — way up in the five figures — by the pro baseball folks. But Billy decided to play at least another year of football and baseball at Michigan.

Then he made his move to pro baseball and picked up around $80,000 or $100,000 as a bonus. You know the rest of the well-known story. He has developed into one of the key ball players for the Tigers — one of the best catchers in the business.

As Bill received his award the other evening from Bob Sieger, the sports editor of the Detroit News, he was far more outspoken than Tiger owner John Fetzer, or general manager Jim Campbell or manager Mayo Smith about the Tiger outlook in 1968.

The first three made no predictions. Freehan did.

"The way we shape up now, we should win the pennant," Bill forecast.

"We have the material, we have the extra experience, we have what it takes to win the pennant."

"Besides, most of our players feel that way (including Livonia's Joe Sparma).

"Last year, you'll remember, we were a young ball club. Few of us ever had been through anything as tense or as exciting as a pennant chase. That's it'll be different in '68."

FREEHAN RETAINS the modesty which marked him as a six-year-old and during his teen days.

He expressed thanks to his manager, to coaches Wally Moses and to Johnny Sain.

"You know, 235 hitters don't receive awards like this. And I was the year before."

"Men like Mayo and Sain and Moses helped me last year. They helped me with the bat, with my catching and with my mental approach to baseball."

Mental approach . . . Two big words in sports, or any other line of endeavor.

Pershing High Rated State's No. 1 Team

Pershing High of Detroit remains the No. 1 ranked Class A prep team in Michigan. East Lansing is second with Ypsilanti third, Battle Creek Central fourth and Muskegon Heights fifth.

Menominee tops the Class B ratings with Detroit All-Stars leading in Class C and Adrian Catholic in Class D.

THE FORDS and Plymouths will renew their rivalry Sunday in the 500-mile road race scheduled at Riverside, Calif., Sunday.

The event is sanctioned by the National Association for Stock Car Auto racing and will carry a purse of around $90,000.

Most of the top drivers in the country, including Richard Petty, Dan Gurney, A.J. Foyt, Mario Andretti and Cale Yarborough will contest.

THE BIG TEN draws a blank in the latest college basketball ratings.

UCLA, Houston, North Carolina, Tennessee and Utah comprise the first five, followed by New Mexico, St. Bonaventure, Kentucky, Vanderbilt and Columbia.

COACH ADOLPH RUPP of Kentucky, this week celebrated the winning of his 70th game since coming to the Wildcats.

HOCKEY ITEMS: The National Hockey League will open its schedule to 76 games next season...The tragic death of Minnesota center Bill Masteron after being felled in a game last week, has precipitated talk that all players in the future will have to wear helmets.

Menominee tops the NHL basement in the Eastern Division, play at Pittsburgh Saturday night and return home Sunday against Toronto.

Livonia's Norm Ullman popped in one of the goals in a losing cause for the All Stars against Toronto as the Leafs pulled out a 4-3 victory.

BIG DODGERS: The Detroit Pistons square off against the New York Knicks at Cobo Arena Sunday at 1:55 p.m. The game will be nationally televised, but blacked out in the Detroit area.

On Tuesday night, Pistons' Dave Bing and Dave DeBusschere will play in the All-Star game in New York (Channel 7, 8:30 p.m.). They will return to Detroit for a Thursday night game with Philadelphia.

Prior to the Pistons-Philadelphia game, there'll be a special preliminary pitting the Bunny Girls against a team from the Detroit Sports Broadcasters Association.

ALTHOUGH HE'S now a professional baseball fan, champion John Newcombe has indicated he'll play again at Wimbledon next June in the first open tournament pitting professionals and amateurs against one another.
