

OAK GROVE

THE FINEST SUBDIVISION ON GRAND RIVER AVENUE

Lots are going rapidly on this allotment and there will be many new houses built next summer on this desirable plat.

These fine lots 50x200 feet in size can be bought now at the initial price, but they will doubtless be worth much more next spring. That has been the result with every other subdivision platted in Redford or, in fact, anywhere along Grand River.

I can sell these lots on very easy terms of payment and invite a call from those who are looking for a home site or an investment.

WENT TO HELP OUT "DADDY"

Young Son of North Carolina Congressman Holds Record for Youthful Legislation.

Master Edwin Webb, the eight-year-old son of Representative Webb of North Carolina is the youngest person to have a vote recorded in the house. Young Webb returned home from school Monday and found the apartment door locked and his mother gone. He walked to the capitol, four miles away, and went upon the floor of the house to hunt for his father. Mr. Webb had stepped out of the room for a few minutes. The roll was being called on a bill.

When the clerk called out "Mr. Webb," the boy, who was resting in his father's chair, voted "yes." A handful of nearby congressmen laughed; the vote was recorded. Mrs. Webb, who was in the gallery, saw what happened, and she was embarrassed. Soon she caught the boy's eye and motioned for him.

"Why did you vote, child?" asked Mrs. Webb.

"Why, mother, daddy was out, and that was his liquor bill; he wanted to vote for it."

The lad did not know that the Webb liquor bill had passed, and was doing what he could to help his father out—Washington dispatch to the New York World.

FEARED EFFECT OF ELEVATION

Cook Employed by President Poincare Had No Desire to See Him Head of French Republic.

M. Poincare has devoted servants, and none is more attached to him than his cook.

"God grant that he be not elected," she said to an interviewer, according to the correspondent of the London Telegraph. "I would rather be here than at the Elysee. I am fond of quiet. Monsieur and madam are so good and unpretentious. Just think, all they ordered yesterday was beefsteak and fried potatoes."

"Today it will probably be the same thing. Monsieur and madam will be unhappy at the Elysee; of that I am sure. Monsieur came home last night at nine o'clock as usual and at a quarter past ten o'clock he retired to bed. Madam never said a word to me about monsieur becoming president of the republic. I almost think that she dreads it. As for me, I shall do my best. Whatever happens, it is the duty of servants to be faithful to their masters, even in misfortune."

POOR MANAGEMENT.

Mrs. Hort is the mother of a large family of children, and they are all rather small. A few days ago a baby appeared upon the scene. Little Margaret, aged five, was allowed to see her mother and the new sister.

After looking at the specimen for a few minutes in silence, the little girl said:

"Mother, don't you think it would be better to have less of 'em and have 'em bigger?"—Everybody.

SURE TO FOLLOW.

Reason—You know Frodoe says you cannot dream yourself into a character; you must hammer and forge yourself one.

Egbert—Yes, and be accused of "knocking" and then arrested for forging.

IT CERTAINLY IS.

Yeast—I understand it has been estimated that it costs a dollar to ship an ordinary passenger train arriving at a fifty-mile speed.

Crimsonback—Well, suppose it does. If a fellow wants to get off it's worth it, isn't it?

ONE THING SHE INSISTED ON.

"So Kitty's mother has picked out a husband for her."

"Yes, but Kitty insists on selecting her wedding dress herself."

WHAT JACK SAYS GOES.

Ethel—Why do you wear gloves while learning to play whist?

Edith—Oh, Jack says I must never let any one see my hand.

JUST BETWEEN GIRLS.

Nell—Jack told me last night he had given me his heart.

Belle—Well, it's damaged goods. He told me last week I had broken it.

QUITE MODERN.

"And have you any old masters?"

"Old masters be blow'd! Everything in this 'ouse is blooming well up to date!"—London Opinion.

GOOD SIGN

"Shall we kill that turk for dinner?"

"Well, I suppose he wouldn't go bad. We've been eating his forefathers for the last ten years, and they were all good."

STRAW VOTES.

"I never really did take much stock in straw votes," said the defeated candidate, "but I must admit that there is more comfort in them than there is sometimes in the real thing."

ITS SORT.

"This is a mercenary garden."

"What do you mean?"

"It has so much moneywort and marjoram."
