A LINEUP - That was the situation Thursday morning when the doors to the Farmington Branch of the Secretary of State's Office opened. February 29 was the last day to purchase the 1968 license plates for autos and these hardy souls braved the early morning cold in order to "get the job done." As one proponent of the last day purchase said "I don't want to break my record." It took him a total of 54 minutes to purchase his plates during the noon hour.

Local News Happenings

By MARIE LONG, 474-3114

On Sunday, Feb. 18, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Sevin entertained the Youth for Understanding foreign exchange students, their American sister or brother, and the Y.F.U. committee at a pot-luck dinner. Major reasons for celebrating, besides just getting together and comparing experiences, was the birthday of Roswitha Sehra, and the announcement that Eva Hjalmarsson had won a blue ribbon and a gold key in the Scholastic Magazine Art competition. She won these for a pair of silver earrings that she had made in the art class of Ray Glenn at Farmington High School.

Committees are all formed for the card party which is being sponsored by the Women of North Farmington on April 30. Valerie Kory is chairman of the table prizes which will be candleholders.

For the past three weeks the girls on that committee have met in the home of Gale Giralmi on Craftsbury. These Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sleiger who had an addition to their family on Feb. 13, Reid James tipped the scales at four pounds, 11 ounces, so being a bit early he must stay in the hospital for maybe another week and then he will come home.

Reid is the first boy to be born into the family. He has three sisters who will take care of him. Father Richard is popping his buttons with pride.

Committees are all formed for the card party which is being sponsored by the Women of North Farmington on April 30. Valerie Kory is chairman of the table prizes which will be candleholders.

For the past three weeks the girls on that committee have met in the home of Gale Giralmi on Craftsbury. These candleholders are made of various glass ware which is glued together; then paper maché for the final stage of painting. At present the gals are busy with paper maché.

CONGRATULATIONS to Carol Rauss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D.B. Rauss, of Peppermill, and Daniel E. McDonnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McDonnell, of Farmington. It will be an August wedding. Carol is a senior at U of M and majoring in special education while her fiancé is a sophomore at U of M Medical School. Deepest sympathy is expressed by all friends and neighbors to the family of Bernard Goetzke on the recent loss of his father, Barney F. Goetzke, who died on Feb. 20.

A GROUP of skiers went to Winter Park, Denver, for a full week of skiing. The gang went by train from Chicago. The folks who enjoyed this winter vacation were Mr. and Mrs. Gleiss, daughter Debbie and son, Karl, of Baytree; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cunningham, of Farmington Rd. and Marjorie and Ted; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wertman; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Haan; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cloutier, of Baytree and children Andre and Leslie Ann; and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Burt, of Crafts-bury.

The Fun Seekers from Antioch Lutheran Church had themselves a wonderful evening Feb. 24 at the LaSalle Wine Company.

Another February birthday that is a must, "Happy Birthday" belatedly to Patricia Barcock, who was three on Feb. 14. It was a family celebration and dinner party in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Babcock, of Hawberry.

Mimi Sheppert entertained the duplicate bridge club in her home last Monday. She resides on Bayberry. Monday afternoon Margaret Gray was hostess to a small group of bridge players in her home on Green Willow.

MARCIA MATTHESSON and Susan Smith have returned recently from a vacation trip to Miami, Ft. Lauderdale and Nassau. Their 10 days in Nassau offered trips to the "straw market" as a diversion today sun bathing, Marcia now has returned to Central Michigan and Susan to her career as a fashion designer at a Detroit boutique.

Brownies Have Gala Banquet

By JUDY ZAHLER

On Sunday, Feb. 11, the Brownies of troop 127 which meets at Forest School, Mrs. Dorothy Roe and Mrs. Marge McMath co-leaders, had a Valentine Father-Daughter Banquet in the First Presbyterian Church in Farmington. The scouts made place mats to be used at the banquet as well as all of the floral centerpieces and decorations.

The festivities started with the Flag Ceremony and a Girl Scout Grace before the dinner. Afterward, the film "This is Girl Scouting" was shown by the leaders. The entertainment that followed was planned and carried out by the Brownies themselves. One group put on a Valentine play complete with costumes made by the girls; another group sang; and the last group recited a poem about daughters. The evening ended with a friendship circle made up of everyone present.

THANKS MUST go to the mothers who prepared the food for the dinner and also to the five cadettes from troop 123 who served the meal and helped in numerous ways to make the evening a success.

On Feb. 29 the whole troop got together with the new Junior troop at Forest School and went roller skating in the Ambassador Rink in Clawson. In the planning stages is a joint meeting with Junior troop 1016 to see the film "Friends Around the World." And "Invite a Friend" week will be celebrated by all three troops at the school.

Mrs. Roe has been selected to be the new Troop Service Director for all of the troops at Forest School. This will really keep her busy as this is a new school and is just getting organized.

SENIOR TROOP 258 had a wonderful weekend at Narrin in January. Luckily the weather was with them and the girls had a lot of fun skating and tobogganing. Birgit Madsen, an exchange student from Denmark, and her American sister Carol Robinson were invited to come along on the camping trip and the troop was accompanied by its senior advisors Mrs. Bridget Reagan and Mrs. Marge Shuklin plus their assistant advisor Vicki Papke. Also at Camp Narrin for the weekend was Mrs. Sanders' troop from Royal Oak. And the Seniors invited them to a Pinala Party on Saturday evening at camp. It turned out to be a real international inter-troop party complete with Mexican songs and the scout version of the Mexican Hat Dance.

On Tuesday, Feb. 13, the scouts gave a Valentine's party for the patients in the Whitehall Convalescent Home, serving heart-shaped cookies and punch for the refreshments. They also brought along a couple of guitars and played and led the patients in song.
