Aid Offered For Jewish Students

Students seeking educational and vocational assistance can now see Jewish Vocational Service counselors at offices of the Jewish Community Center, William M. Wetman, president of the Jewish Vocational Service, has announced.

Through the cooperation of the Center, JVS counselors will have the use of several offices at the main branch of the Center 18100 Meyers Road, Detroit. This should be particularly helpful to persons who can arrange appointments only after school, Mr. Wetman said. Appointments for students and adults will, of course, also continue to be available at JVS's main location, 153 Madison Avenue (at John R), Detroit.

Most of JVS's educational and career counseling services can be rendered from its Center offices, including assistance in selecting a college, admission to college, and financial aid for college attendance. Assistance can also be given on maintaining satisfactory grades in college or high school.

Norman Vincent Peale Will Speak In Livonia

One of America's best-known clergymen, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, will speak in Livonia's Church of the Savior Tuesday, April 2.

The church, located at 38100 Five Mile, is one of three new Reformed Churches in America in which the noted speaker will make addresses this year.

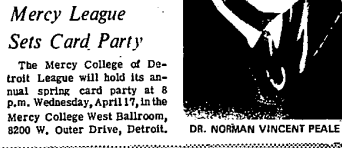

Dr. Peale is a minister in the Reformed Church denomination.

CHURCH OF THE SAVIOR dedicated its new church building last Sept. 17. The Rev. Luther Ratzmeyer is pastor.

From his pulpit at Marble Collegiate Church, Dr. Peale preaches to some 4,000 people every Sunday. Last year he served as president of The Local Men At Church Meeting

Seven men from the Observer area were among the more than 1,000 who attended the annual meeting of United Presbyterian Men in Chicago recently.

The churchmen heard George E. Bushnell Jr., attorney from Grosse Pointe, state in a panel discussion that he feared the possibility of "turning our country into a police state."

Local representatives at the meeting included Ken Johnson, 18643 Westbrook; Doug Kole, 30223 Buckingham; Bill Hartley, 30529 Teasdale; and Gary Shockey, 29562 Oakley, all of Livonia; Clyde Carlson, 24069 Colchester Street, Farmington; and Earl D. Wise, 15032 Maplewood Lane, and Richard Wermeth, 387 Adams, both of Plymouth.

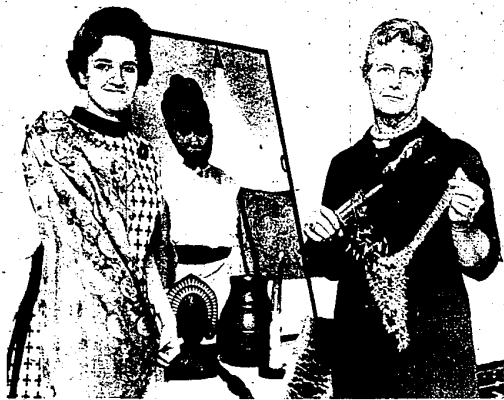

They also heard an address by Dr. Eugene Smathers, moderator of the United Presbyterian Church.

He urged the men to "new adventures of understanding and conquest" as he deplored the fact that, "We have grown to love the walls that keep us in."

"Our cities are rocking and if they are to be rebuilt let them be rebuilt by men of commitment," challenged Dr. Kenneth C. Neigh, general secretary of the Board of National Missions, and former executive of the Synod of Michigan. Talking about the ugly fact of poverty Dr. Neigh stated that "there are about 17 per cent of our people living in the 'basement' of society, detached from our affluence."

Speaking about "law and order," Dr. Philip M. Hauser, professor of sociology of University of Chicago, advised that "the phrase we should use today is 'law, order and justice' for without justice there will not be law or order."

Dr. James D. Glasse, professor at the Divinity School of Vanderbilt University, urged that the church be serious about evangelism and social change and not be side-tracked in its efforts by the attitudes of "leave us alone," "We are not ready yet," and "go slow."

MISSION EXHIBIT - Fascinating items brought back by missionaries from all corners of the earth are on display in the Northwest Church Christian and Missionary Alliance on W. Ten Mile Road in Farmington this week. The church also is scene of the denomination's annual bible and missionary conference. Here two members look over the exhibit, with Mrs. Francis Payne, left, holding a dress from Vietnam and Mrs. John Wright examining ceremonial items from Peru. The painting in the background was done by a member of the congregation.

Prayer Vigil Is Planned

The Newburg Methodist Church Women's Society for Christian Service and the commission on membership and evangelism will sponsor a prayer vigil to 6 a.m. Good Friday to 6 a.m. Easter Morning.

Members and friends of the church will sign up to participate in the vigil for short periods of time.

Purpose of the vigil, said a church spokesman, is "for personal spiritual enrichment and to express to God our corporate concern for peace in the world, human rights and justice."

Timothy Lutheran Installs New Pastor

The Rev. Thomas E. Rehl was installed as the pastor of Timothy Lutheran Church, 8200 Wayne Road, Livonia during worship services Sunday, March 10.

A reception dinner followed in the afternoon, offering members the opportunity to greet their new pastor.

Rev. Rehl grew up in Ohio. He graduated from Capital University, Columbus, received the Bachelor of Divinity degree from the Evangelical Lutheran Theological Seminary in Columbus, and was ordained in 1960.

Conyers Says Church Must Have Heart Change

The church in America "must get into the heart-changing business" very soon if it is to help solve not just an end to racial tension, Rep. John Conyers told a suburban audience in St. Matthew's Church, Livonia, last Sunday.

The Negro Congressman who represents Michigan's 1st district spoke on "The Role of the Church in Race Relations."

He told an apparently sympathetic audience:

"We can't change the ghettoes by garrisoning them. Until we learn to live in peace, with justice for all, there will be no end to our racial problems."

Asked about the possibility of relocating poorer Negroes on farms, he commented that "this seems like a good solution, but farming today employs relatively few because unskilled farm labor has been largely replaced by modern machinery."

Conyers said he could not justify civil disorders, but pointed out:

"People who own their homes or business do not go around destroying things. People living on or under the brink of poverty have nothing to lose and riot out of anger and frustration."
