Conference Missionaries Find Plenty To Discuss

Dr. Lindsell has traveled all over the world, often visiting some of the 250 of his former students now serving in the mission field. This summer he will attend the World Council of Churches assembly at Uppsala, Sweden, then lead a Holy Land tour.

He is the author or editor of a dozen books, including "The Harper Study Bible," and the official volume of papers from the 1966 Congress on the Church's Worldwide Mission.

Having a Presbyterian, Lindsell later joined the Southern Baptist Convention. He applied to several foreign mission boards but was turned down due to allergies and decided instead on an academic career. One of his non-academic pursuits is golf. He shoots "around 100" and adds, "anybody who shoots over 100 is wasting his time; anybody who shoots under 100 is neglecting his profession."
