Schoolcraft College paid tribute last week to 48 of its top scholars at a reception hosted by President and Mrs. Eric Bradner.

The students are members of Omicron Iota chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, a national scholastic honorary society for community colleges.

It corresponds to the Phi Beta Kappa of the four-year colleges.

Among those honored were students from the college district's five local member districts—Clarenceville, Garden City, Livonia, Northville and Plymouth.

Co-hosts with the Bradners at the reception on Waterman Campus Center were:

Dr. Ralph W. Atchley, faculty adviser to the chapter, and Mrs. Atchley; John H. Brunn; Vice president for instruction and Mrs. Brunn; Edward V. McNally, dean of student affairs, and Mrs. McNally; Robert A. Stenger, academic dean, and Mrs. Stenger; Norman E. Dunn, registrar, and Mrs. Dunn; Miss Barbara Gell, director of admissions; John R. Webber, assistant dean of student affairs; and Miss Jean Pice, director of student affairs.

Archaeologists Of State Meet

The Michigan Archaeological Society will hold its 17th annual spring meeting in the Grand Rapids Public Museum Sunday, March 31.

Dr. Donald R. Hage, of Northville, a surgeon with the Livonia Medical Community, is president of the group, which has a membership of over 800.

The scientific program will include a movie on excavations at Skagway Point in Grand Traverse County, reports on diggings on Summer Island and the Fletcher Site near Bay City and a commentary on historic documents and the Indian trade by Dr. David Armour of the Mackinac Island State Park Commission.

Mrs. Peale Addresses Women

Mrs. Norman Vincent Peale will address women of church and community at 2 p.m. Tuesday, April 2, in the Church of the Savior, Livonia.

The wife of the well-known clergyman will be accompanying her husband when he visits the local Reformed Church for two addresses Tuesday evening.

Women of the community are invited by the Rev. Luther E. Raimeyer, pastor of the Church of the Savior, to hear Mrs. Peale. The church is located at 38100 Five Mile, just west of Newburgh.

Mrs. Peale, mother of three, has maintained a close partnership with her husband in all his activities as pastor of the historic Marble Collegiate Reformed Church in New York. She is president of the denomination's board of missions and serves with her husband on the boards of the American Foundation of Religion and Psychiatry and the Protestant Council. She also is co-editor of the magazine "Guidesposts." Dr. Peale's two addresses are scheduled at 7 and 8:30 p.m. and admission will be by complimentary ticket. The tickets are available by calling the church office, 464-1032 or 427-0122.
