MRS. ERIC GINGOLD (Dawn Williams)

Shaarey Zedek Is Scene Of Wedding

Dawn N. Williams became the bride of Eric Wallace Gingold in an evening ceremony Saturday, March 30, in Congregation Shaarey Zedek, Southfield.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. Williams, of Farmington Road, Farmington, and Mr. and Mrs. George Gingold, of Great Neck, Long Island, N.Y.

Robt. Irwin Groner officiated for the rites.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a short-sleeved gown of candlelight pique design, with full court train. The empire bodice was covered with English net and trimmed with lace and seed pearls, and net and lace fashioned the full-length mantilla. The bride carried a cascade of white roses with a white orchid in the center.

Her uncle, Robert Williams, of Farmington.

BOTH MOTHERS chose gowns in celery green shades. Mrs. Williams' costume was silk and wool with beading at the neckline and sleeves, and Mrs. Gingold wore pearl de sote beaded to the waist and at the hemline.

A reception in Northland Inn followed the ceremony.

The couple planned a week's honeymoon on Paradise Island in the Bahamas, and later will be at home in New York.

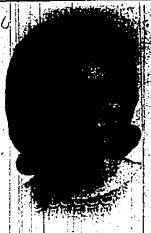

The new Mrs. Gingold is a graduate of Farmington High School and Michigan State University. Her husband also graduated from MSU, where he was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity, and attended Brooklyn Law School. He now is teaching in New York City.

FOUR ATTENDANTS wore ottoman cloth gowns in pastel shades.

Mrs. Allen Joseph, of Coldwater, was maid of honor and wore a pink dress. The bridesmaids were Katherine Linden, of Farmington, in carnation pink, and Mrs. John Daezner, of Flint, in yellow. Janice Crimm, of South Galt, Ontario, was junior bridesmaid and wore pastel pink.

All the attendants wore headpieces that matched their gowns and carried contrasting spider mums.

Julian Gingold, of New York, was best man for his brother. The ushers were another brother, Herbert Gingold, of Great Neck, a cousin, Jeffrey Gingold, also of Great Neck, and the
