Alter Spess Bond
Trouble continued to mount this week for William C. Spess, of 34752 Fendt Rd., when Farmington Township police accused him of a second dlense of dumping debris on Drake Rd. while the first case still awaits trial.

yo. As a result of the second charge, the personal bond of $500 originally required of $pess in township justice court was changed to a surety bond.

The case is scheduled for trial May 9 and involves a claim by $pess that the piece of Drake Rd. in question, south of Rhonswood where Drake ends, is his own personal property.

The ghost towns of the old West served well during the heyday of exploration and development. Today, progress sees our town growing and thriving. No ghost town this - but a vital community. Our part-to offer complete saving service to you.
