

WE CAN'T QUITE FIGURE... why Farmington so completely avoided all the meetings of the City's charter commission. We expected at the beginning that there would be a lot of folks at each session, particularly members of the Citizens' Committee which turned out the vote to revise the charter. However, only two meetings were attended by a guest. Inasmuch as the charter-writers wrote the rules under which Farmington will live for quite a while, we can't help thinking more folks should have been interested in the job, and should have dropped in just to see how hard the charter commission was working at it.

IT'S SNOW BOOTS... this time again, that confusing period when we spend most of our time putting on boots and then taking them off again. This may not be just what the scientific weatherman calls it, but to most mothers in and around Farmington, it's snow boots time and nothing else can be more descriptive. Oh well, in another few months it will all be over. So will the tremendous job of clearing the streets and highways of that beautiful white stuff that can be not so beautiful for the daily motorist. We are always fascinated, as are many others, by the assortment of plows, scoops, and other devices used to clear away the snow. After every snow storm, like the one last week end, Farmington residents and merchants stop along the street or look from their windows at the little yellow bus used by the city to keep its streets clear. It is a wonderful way to spend a couple minutes on a busy day.

TURN ON THAT PORCH LIGHT... this Friday between the hours of 7:00 p.m. and 5:00 p.m. — it's your turn to give to the Farmington March of Dimes Campaign. Volunteers will be covering the streets of the City and the more concentrated areas of the Township, and if your porch light is on you will receive a visitor. You can put the welcome mat out, not only to the solicitor, but to yourself and some unknown victim of Infantile Paralysis that needs your help. You can do all this just by turning on your porch light Friday night. It's your last chance. JOIN THE FARMINGTON MARCH OF DIMES CAMPAIGN!

OUR CONGRATULATIONS... and best wishes go to the members of the Farmington High School debating team. They will be carrying the name of Farmington to the State Elimination Tournaments to be held Monday, February 5, in the Rackham Building in Detroit. Not only that, but they will be competing against some of the largest high schools in the State of Michigan. The team, under the direction of Lloyd Smith, has compiled the outstanding record of seven wins against only one defeat this year. The entire Farmington community wishes them the best of luck.

BEING THE SHORTEST MONTH... in the year is not the only distinction reserved for February. It is also the birthday month of famous men. Two of the nation's greatest presidents were born in February, Washington and Lincoln. And we can't think of a better time for all of us to take up the book and read a few lines about these men who did so much to shape the life and liberty we Americans enjoy. Our democracy didn't just happen, it was born and developed in the minds and hands of these men. These are challenging times, a time for strategic thinking, courage, and unwavering faith in our way of life. There are some who enjoy the challenge of the new and the different, but when they do they debunk America, for these men are America. Let us read their history, seek out their qualities of leadership, recapture the courage and determination that made them great, and rededicate ourselves to the progress that is American democracy. A progress that they accelerated and that we must carry on.

YOUR BLOOD IS NEEDED... so that some American soldier in Korea may have life. On March 20 this year the Red Cross mobile blood bank will be in Farmington. That seems like a long time from February 1, but registrations are being taken now. If you can give a pint of blood, please call Pierre Delmonter at Farmington 1421 or The Farmington Enterprise at Farmington 3009 today. It is important that the Red Cross and local doctors have some idea as to how many more additional changes will contribute blood when the mobile bank visits the community. A number of persons have already indicated their willingness to give blood, how about you?

SOME CHANGES... are being made in the general appearance of your hometown newspaper, as you no doubt have already noticed. These changes are designed to make The Enterprise more attractive and easier to read. You are the final judge! That's why we would appreciate your comments on the new paper as well as future issues where additional changes will be made. New layouts are being tried out both on the front and inside pages. Look them over, and let us hear from you. We are anxious to have The Enterprise the way you want it, because it is your hometown newspaper.

EXPECT TO FINISH ROUGH DRAFT OF ZONING CODE SOON

Edward Moseman, chairman of the Farmington Township Zoning Board, stated Monday that the board expects to complete the first rough draft of the proposed Township Zoning Ordinance "within a week or two."

The zoning chairman said the code would be printed, widely distributed, and then amended at public hearings. Purpose of the printing and distribution prior to making the final draft of the ordinance is to allow township residents to be made familiar with the code and suggest changes.

The board is still asking residents to attend the Tuesday night meetings to make known their opinions on zoning. Moseman stated that many residents are under the impression a code has already been drawn, enacted, and is currently in force.

"This is a false impression," the chairman said. "There is no code as yet; we're waiting for residents to come in and tell us what they want and don't want. We are particularly desirous of conferring with the business community, which is being touched by expansion and development."

Midnight Session Completes Draft Of Farmington's Revised Charter

Special Election Later For New Councilmen

Seven weary but content charter commissioners left the Farmington City Hall at nearly 1 a.m. Wednesday morning, having completed the city's new charter in an arduous five-hour session. The charter was to have been signed Wednesday evening and placed on file.

The early completion of the city's charter was made possible by adoption of most of the provisions of the new charter for the City of Groose Pointe Woods. Local variations and provisions were made in the Groose Pointe Woods charter, selected from several presented to the commission for consideration.

Another meeting, held Monday, paved the way for the completion of the instrument. Commissioners decided on the appointment of the clerk, treasurer, and assessor by the city council and responsible to the city council after several hours of discussion at previous meetings where council appointment was compared to appointment by the manager with the council's approval.

DECIDE ON COURT

Much of Monday night's meeting was filled by a discussion of the court system to be established in the instrument. Both Justices of the Peace were present at the Monday and Tuesday meetings, with Justice John J. Schulte, proposing a continuation of the fee-paid justice court, and Justice Max Hulett recommending the establishment of a full municipal court with the judge on salary basis.

The question remained undecided until Tuesday night's meeting, at which the charter commission decided to hold a meeting this Friday evening at the town hall preparatory to the second air draft exercise. February 18, George McLaughlin, chief observer, is still asking for more volunteers to assist during the test. Each volunteer is being asked to watch the sky for two hours during the test.

The Farmington station is one of 13 observing posts in the county, having a direct line to a central filtering station where reports are filed in conjunction with Air Force radar reports. Farmington's post is located on the high ground behind Springbrook Gardens on Powder Road.

A civil defense welfare station also being established in the Farmington area. The Dorcas Society of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, Oxford and Grand River, is the sponsor of the effort to stockpile supplies of clothing and make bandages to prepare for an emergency. At present, the group is in need of clothing and old white goods, the latter to be used in bandages, and are needed by the group at its Wednesday morning meetings.

Another defense measure, the air raid ground observer group, will hold a meeting this Friday evening at the town hall preparatory to the second air draft exercise.

School Election Set For April 2 At Clarenceville

Board Seeks 5 Mill Increase For 5 Years

Monday, April 2, has been designated as the date of the Clarenceville special millage increase election. It was announced Monday evening following a special meeting of the Clarenceville Board of Education.

Registration for the special election will begin Thursday, March 1, and run until March 24. Persons may register at the office of the superintendent at the Clarenceville High School any week day from 9 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Special registration hours will be set aside for the final day of registration. Only persons not already registered in the School District or in Farmington Township, Redford Township, or the City of Livonia, need register.

5 MILL INCREASE

The proposition to be voted upon is whether or not the Board will be authorized to levy 5 mills for 5 years to cover the increased cost of school operation. The Board stated that the additional funds are needed to take care of instructional supplies and equipment, custodial supplies, fuel and bus maintenance. All of these expenses have increased materially because of the growing enrollment. The Board added.

The additional funds which would be made available under the millage increase would enable the District to "continue present services and possibly additional ones, to meet the salary increases which are necessary for teachers and custodians, to employ new teachers and replacements, and to maintain the transportation program as desired by the parents."

It was announced at the Board meeting Monday that on the basis of present collections it will not be necessary to levy a tax on the gymnasium addition the fifth year. The last levy will be issued in December, 1951.

Novi Approves Building Move

By a vote of 167 to 68, Novi voters decided Monday to erect the new community building adjacent to the present school site. Novi organizations have earned more than $12,000 and the Township Board has earmarked $20,000 to finance the structure.

Prior to Monday's election, the building was to be added to the present Novi Township building, located south of Grand River Avenue. However, the Novi Board of Education and the Township Board decided to move the community building to the school site. Advocates of the move claimed the current commercial building freeze would prohibit construction of the building unless done in conjunction with the school.

Novi voters have previously approved an $80,000 bond issue to finance the addition of four rooms to the present school, to be completed some time in early fall.

A meeting of the school electors was held Friday night to approve (Continued on Page Twelve)
