Drew Pearson's Washington Merry-Go-Round

Chinese obviously knew their own strength. Furthermore it was published on December 20, one month after the 8th army's tragic retreat, and facts published after the battle don't give much help to the enemy.

However, after a battle, the people whose sons are lost and whose country is injured are entitled to know the reasons for defeat. The reasons in this case were errors in command. They were not the fault of the troops on the field of battle.

The reasons for this particular defeat began at Wake Island, and so back in part to two factors—a brilliant, strong-minded general who knew exactly what he wanted, and a president not versed in military strategy who, as a former National Guard artillery captain, was dazzled by braud and brass.

Several members from the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 346 assisted in the March of Dimes campaign this year. Those present were Mrs. Peggy Hupert, Mrs. Trema Quinn, Mrs. Mary Willard, Mrs. Hatlie DeVreault and Mrs. Mary Markel.

The veterans unit at Percy Jones Hospital received a big surprise last week end when the Detroit Times Recreational Club put on a big show. Heard the boys enjoyed it immensely.

A World War I veteran, Mr. John Mathewson, was taken to the Dearborn Veterans' Hospital and was placed in an oxygen tank, as a result of inhaling smoke and fumes caused by a fire which partially destroyed his home on Westmore last Friday evening.

Veterans of this National Emergency have been promised the support of Governor Williams. When the Legislature takes up the question of Constitutional Amendments, the following have been recommended: death benefits to be paid to relatives of both men and women; hospitalization and rehabilitation rights to be received after their discharge; Both men and women now serving our country return to jobs which they held before entering the service with full seniority and retirement rights. This program appears to deserve every veteran's support.

February is going to be a very important month in Farmington, for on the 24th and 25th the Mid-Winter Festival, put on by the merchants of Farmington, will again appear at the American Legion Home on Grand River. This year the displays will occupy both floors. Be sure and keep this date in mind.

During winter months of "arm chair" gardening, it's easy to grow enthusiastic about new varieties. Michigan State College horticulturists say care should be taken before planting too much of an unproved variety. The old standbys stay with us for the good reason, that their performance is proven.

John Hunt, Sr., Named Scout Camping Head

Chairman of the Board Charles E. Rhoades and Scout Executive Ed Leland of the Clinton Valley Council Boy Scouts, announced last week the selection of the Camping activities committee for Scouting in Oakland and Macomb Counties. John Hunt, Sr., of Farmington, has been named chairman of the committee.

Other members of the committee are Ralph Bennett and Tom Clampton of Mt. Clemens, Norton Graham and Bill Pascher of Pontiac, Bill Barnum of Farmington, Bob Skellinger of Walled Lake, Scout Executive Ed Leland and Field Executives Hatch and MacMillen.

MacArthur also argued that the North Korean guerrillas would be destroyed by the severe Korean winter, and that the South Korean army would be strong enough to protect its homeland without a large U. N. army.

President Truman was hesitant. He questioned the necessity of marching all the way to the Chinese border, also the wisdom of pulling American troops out too quickly.

MacArthur replied that "occupations are failures," that the execution of war prisoners is "foolish," and it would be best to leave Korea in the hands of Korea.

Although Truman remained hesitant, he never gave MacArthur direct orders not to march to the border.

A stronger president, such as Franklin D. Roosevelt, probably would have argued MacArthur down. A stronger military adviser, like the President might have done likewise. Time and again Churchill and Roosevelt, conferring with the generals, dominated military decisions in the last war. And although never published, it was stated that Gen. Chester Nimitz, commander of the fleet in the Pacific, who managed to reverse MacArthur's plan to stage the first Philippine landing not at Mindanao—where the Japs were prepared—but in the Gulf of Leyte.

What's its Power? FIREBALL!
(Only Buick can make this statement)

BEND an ear to the deep baritone song of this marvel motor, and you'll know we aren't fooling when we call it Fireball.

Mister, that's Power, with a capital P.

What happens beneath that brawny Buick bonnet happens in no other car in the world.

Years ahead of the rush to high-compression valve-in-head engines, Buick was in there pitching for more power from every drop of fuel.

The result was—and is—a spectacular engineering phenomenon that makes itself felt the instant you touch toe to gas treadle.

You command a rapid-fire sequence of tiny tornadoes, letting loose their pent-up power every five inches that a Buick travels.

If you could look inside that Fireball engine, you'd see the reason. Instead of the flat-topped pistons used in other cars, Buick uses a turbo-top piston, contoured like this:

So the inrushing fuel whirlwinds into a compressed ball that adds a super-urge to the downstroke of the piston.

And you get the thrill—and thrift—of this Buick "first" in every mile you drive.

More than that, you get an engine tried-and-true—an engine that's been polished and perfected in every detail up through the years.

Again and again, compression ratios have been stepped up to keep pace with advances in fuels. Self-setting valve lifters contribute to silence. Micro-raise balanced and Hi-Poised engine mountings add two more Buick exclusives.

And the silken might of this Fireball's power has been made more beautifully obedient by still another "first"—Dynaflow Drive.*

So we list as a prime reason why "smart buy's Buick" this Fireball power plant—and a host of happy owners will say "Amen."

Better see your dealer soon, to find out what you've been missing.
