ROLLING DOWN THE RIVER

By Bob Kettler

So the other day business little dull (and you have But the dull the dull you want to stay in the salesman's union—series it will these days to stay in the salesman's union—besides if you say it's good someone goes and thinks up a new drove into this fine Studehaker Dispensary of ours and white four of the fellows sat on this customer—never led anyone get away these days, especially cusawites of ours took high car and agave it a motor tune-up, a lubrication and an oil change. After that, we let the man up and he says. 'thanks guys, and how wheel pack? You should be more aggressive if you wish to succeed in this world.' With that he drove away and for a while we figured that perhaps we have been's but last in our methods.

The sad part of the whole matter, we discovered two days to late, is this customer really cam in to get himself a new 195 Studebaker Commander with the good, he decides to keep it a good, he decides to keep it a while longer. From here on out we have a new rule that says, let the customer speak first. We hope you're one of them and we you'll sell yourself, You must admit we certainly got the advertising in early this week and we hope you come

oning through something okay reminds us of the story a doctor riend drove around to tell us recently. Seemed a young couple were expecting the first child and the husband was suffering much more than the wife. Came the time he drove the mother-towere registering, he itrand to his everloving lady and said with great concern, "look Darling, are you absolutely sure that you want to go through with this?"

So long far now, but before we go will tell you of the newly drafted private with whom we had dinner the other day. During the dessert some one asked the brand new soldier. "I suppose you'd like to come out of this war a full colonel at least" "Mope," all othe lad, "I'd much rather come out a civilian right now."
