The Recent Petition . . .

filed with the Farmington Township Board calling for a vote on the proposed Township Zoning Ordinance emphasized the need for additional information on the procedure to follow in filing petitions regarding this ordinance.

In spite of repeated words published almost weekly in the Farmington Enterprise, there seems to be several misunderstandings. For this reason we will repeat again: There is no Township Zoning Ordinance in effect at the present time! The signers of the petition filed with the Board referred to the zoning ordinance passed by the Board. The Zoning Ordinance has not reached the Board as yet.

The final draft of the proposed ordinance has been completed and filed with the County Zoning Board. According to law it must be acted upon by the County within 30 days. It will then be returned to the Township Board for action. The complete and corrected text of the proposed ordinance as well as the zoning map will be published, probably prior to the Board's action, in the Enterprise. Then, within 30 days following action and publication, residents of the Township have the right to file petitions calling for a vote. The petitions must bear signatures of registered voters totaling at least 8% of the number of votes cast for Governor in the last gubernatorial election. The petitions must be filed AFTER the Board has acted upon the proposed ordinance.

This procedure is done for a definite purpose. It is done so that voters will have an opportunity to read and know what the proposed ordinance contains before they take action. A number of changes have been made in the ordinance since it was first published. It is essential that you know about the ordinance first hand. The future of Farmington Township depends on responsible and honest action by the people on this vitally important question.

Read the ordinance when it is published — know what it means — you owe it to yourself!

This Week . . .

newspapers large and small all over the nation are celebrating National Newspaper Week. This year's slogan is, "Your Newspaper Lights the Way Of Freedom."

It is not just a week set aside to pay tribute to the free press of a free nation. It is more a challenge and a re-dedication to every newspaper to continue to fulfill its obligations and responsibilities to the people it serves.

Considerable abuse has been heaped on the press, mostly from those who fear the truth. A great many words have been printed and spoken in denunciation of our newspapers. This is true of both the large and small newspapers that blanket this country. But the truth can not be diverted, not in a nation where people are allowed to think and know the facts.

We have tremendous challenges before us . . . challenges to inform . . . to lead and to serve. The newspapers, weekly and daily, can and must continue to light the way. The lights of a free press have gone out in much of the world — they must not and will not go out here. This is our challenge!

Action Taken Last Week . . .

by the State Bar Association in permitting disbarment of subversive members is encouraging. It is encouraging because above all else our courts and system of law must remain as a bulwark of democracy.

However, a great deal of caution must be exercised in order that free and liberal thinking is not destroyed. There is a marked difference between liberalism and advocacy to overthrow the government by force. The line can and must be drawn along this line.

This does not mean that all subversives will be detected and exposed, but it does mean that a definite, clear cut policy will be established. Nor does it mean that the Communists will be driven further underground, for very few of them wear the hammer and sickle on their lapel. The Constitution of the United States was drafted as an instrument of freedom for free people, not as a tool to destroy itself.

OFFICES of psychologists are open today. People who have worried themselves into an unstable state of mind because of various reasons.

It is very probable that a general survey would prove most people who have disturbed mental condition that it calls for psychiatric treatment have worried mostly about things that never happened.

Any man has marked since the very beginning of Christianity itself. And in this atomic day and age people tend to be more anxious, more doubtful than ever before.

It is impossible to say how many times "the end of the world" has been predicted and the equal number of times those who predicted such a catastrophe were shown to be either wrong or deluded.

Jesus, however, did not say those words there have been many wars and tumults that could fit into the category of trouble He mentioned.

Was Jesus predicting the Great War of Superstition?
Or was He speaking in general terms of the struggle between good and evil?

Whatever the future, Christians must be prepared for it spiritually.
They then have inner strength to meet it untroubled or worried mentally and physically. It would be better if we were to strive to follow the example of Jesus in word and deed, instead of spending our time and energy speculating about doubtful matters — things that could worry us to distraction for no good purpose.

The uncertain future tells us nothing in the way of tumult of what may befall us tomorrow, or what tomorrow may be like.

But the word of the Lord shall not pass away. There is our place of anchorage, our rock, our word, and do our duty, that, then, is the best preparation for what ever is to come.

The Break for Which Russia's Been Waiting

By GENE ALLEMAN
Michigan has been in the furor of political prostration.

Who's going to do what — and when?

Thus far, and the smoke has cleared away enough for normal thinking, Secretary of State Fred M.
Alger, Jr., of Grand Rapids, is still the only allowed G. O. P. candidate for governor.

Friends of Lt. Governor Roger Vanderberg of Holland insist he will be a candidate. And linked to Vanderberg by personal rumors is the name of Wilfred (Bill) Dorn of Lansing and Mackinac. Dorn, state legislative agent and former state senator from Menominee in the UP, as a possible candidate for lieutenant governor.
This smiling Irishman is chairman of the citizens' committee for reorganization of state government and is committed to good governmental economy. He holds no confidence in either Alger or Vanderberg and knows Michigan politics thoroughly.

Owen J. Cleary (now G.O.P. state central committee chairman) was thought to have gubernatorial aspirations for a while, but dopesters now rank him as a candidate for secretary of state, the job now held by Alger.

Kit Clardy, Lansing attorney, supports him in his run for U. S. senator if there is a demand to oppose Blair Moody, the active young campaigner appointed by Governor Williams to succeed the late Senator Vanderberg. Clardy, once defeated for U. S. representative, still has his eye on that spot.

John B. Martin, Jr., of Grand Rapids, current attorney for the senator, has the inside track for the senatorial G. O. P. nomination. Kelly is still in the background, well camouflaged. Arthur Vanderberg, Jr., is being boosted by one or two groups — but both have yet to declare themselves, and get campaigns under way.

The new federal tax bill is going to cost Michigan taxpayers some $26,585,000 more in taxes. Individual income taxes will account for an additional $129,870,000 under the new measure, and corporations must raise an additional $22,171, 000 more than they are contributing now. Miscellaneous taxes, $53, 593,000.

Michigan stands among the top contributors to the U. S. Whitham tax bill along with New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and California. Reason: concentrated industry and agriculture.

More price hikes are feared in the automobile industry, nullifying any advantages gained from easing of credit terms. Sales also have increased and dealers are again wiping their usually doleful eyes.

Believe it or not, there seems to be a trend in Michigan toward greater governmental economy. In 1950, 32 counties spent less than in 1949. In 1949, only 19 counties

Looking Back Through The Enterprise Files

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO (October 8, 1926)

Taxpayers of Wayne, Macomb and Oakland Counties will be saved millions of dollars through cooperation of the three counties planning the highway development of the greater Detroit area, according to a report issued by a commission composed of representatives from the three counties. The joint commission, formed under a legislative act of 1925, is composed of Wayne, Macomb and Oakland county road commissioners and Frank F. Rogers, state highway commissioner. The purpose of the commission is to acquire rights of way on inter-county thoroughfares. The paving and improvements are separate county responsibilities.

Voters Re-Register
At noon Wednesday 394 voters re-registered in the City of Farmington. Although less than one-third, the bulk of the voters registered have done so the last two days. Deadline for re-registering is October 10. Re-registering is going on throughout the State of Michigan. City Clerk Harry Moore reports he will be at the City Hall the next two Friday evenings, October 4 and 11, until 9:00 p.m. to serve persons who wish to re-register.

Little Stories about Great Hymns © The Church's One Foundation
The Church's one foundation, is Jesus Christ her Lord;
She is His new creation, by water and the word;
From heaven He came and sought her, to be His holy bride, With His own blood He bought her, and for her life He died.

This is the ninth of 12 hymns based on the Apostles' Creed, written by Samuel Stenn, a curate of the Church of England. This hymn is based on the words of the apostle in the beginning of the Holy Church. The hymn was composed by S. S. Walley, grandson of the Methodist hymnist, Charles Walley. Archibald Temple humorously complained it was sung wherever he went.

John B. Martin, Jr., of Grand Rapids, current attorney for the senator, still has the inside track for the senatorial G. O. P. nomination. Kelly is still in the background, well camouflaged.
