Joachim A. Meyreilles died very suddenly of a heart attack while bowling at the Livonia Recreation Hall located on Plymouth Road October 18, 1951.

He was born December 3, 1882, in Oquess, Michigan, the son of Joachim and Della (Pratt) Meyreilles. He resided at 21214 Middlebelt Road for fifteen years.

He was married to Florence Warr in September, 1906. She survives him. He is also survived by one son, Joseph of Farmington, and two sisters, Mrs. LaGuille of Paramount, California, and Miss Grace Meyreilles of Los Angeles, California.

Mrs. Meyreilles was employed by the Gemco Electric Company of Detroit.

Funeral services were held from the Spencer J. Heeney Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Monday with the Rev. Walter Rutkowski of St. Paul's Lutheran Church officiating. Interment was in Woodmere Cemetery.

Carrie May Paul
Mrs. Carrie May Paul of 28395 Pearl Street, Farmington, died October 22, 1951, at Detroit Osteopathic Hospital following several days illness.

She was born December 30, 1894, in Detroit, Michigan, the daughter of Henry and Julia (Skinner) Schriener. She was united in marriage to Casper J. Paul, October 28, 1915, and had resided in Farmington twenty-seven years.

Mrs. Paul is survived by her husband, Casper J.; two sons, Robert and John of Farmington; two daughters, Mrs. Cose Oosterhof of Royal Oak and Joyce of Farmington; one grandson; two brothers, Melvin and Walter Schriener of Detroit; three sisters, Mrs. Esther Necker, Mrs. Laura Kamhout of Detroit and Mrs. Grace Shaller of Farmington, Michigan.

Funeral services will be held from the Spencer J. Heeney Funeral Home at 3:30 a.m. Friday and 9:00 a.m. at Our Lady of Sorrows Church.

Interment will be in Grand Lawn Cemetery.

A group of folks came out from Detroit last Sunday afternoon to attend the 4:30 p.m. service in the Neighborhood Church. Among the group was Mr. and Mrs. Young, parents of Mr. Alva Young, who delivered the sermon. A sister with her husband and son were also present.

Mrs. William Dixon of Shady-side Avenue was a party guest Friday night of friends in Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Glatfelter and sons Eric and Billy of Farmington visited Half Moon Lake last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Franz of Detroit are spending this week and with the Isidor Patinos of Clarita.

William Barrett of Irving has received word that his brother in Chicago is seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steward of Detroit were dinner guests of the Carl Johnsons on Pilmore last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ross from Jackson were guests last Sunday of Mrs. Ross's sister, Mrs. Ernest Tallman and her husband on Mayfield Avenue.

Mrs. Tallman's niece, Mrs. Will Siebert, with her husband and children, were also guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Larson from Detroit were calling on the Ernest Tallmans on Mayfield Avenue last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tallman were visiting Mr. Tallman's brother, Dave Tallman, in Detroit last Wednesday evening.

Mrs. John Touchstone from Mobile, Alabama, arrived Friday night to be the two week guest of her niece, Mrs. George W. Sandau and family on Hubbard.

Mrs. Charles Punk, Shady-side, is reported on the sick list.

A pleasant Beauty Counselor party was held recently at the home of Mrs. Harold Knapp of Farmington Road. Eight ladies were present.

Mrs. Leslie Mansfield of 4923 Twentieth Avenue, South, St. Petersburg, Florida, will celebrate her 60th birthday the latter part of this month. According to her daughter, Mrs. George Strassberger, she is eagerly anticipating the arrival of birthday cards. Many of them she hopes will come from West Point Park, her former home. Just now she is suffering from a severe cold, which she is expected to overcome. Her husband, Leslie, is in poor health.

To make sure of the presence of their son Don at the festive board, Mr. and Mrs. John Hay of West Seven Mile Road had their Thanksgiving dinner, including turkey, cranberry sauce and all the usual things, on Sunday, October 7. The entire family enjoyed the occasion. Don has been inducted into the U. S. Army.

Half-day will be observed in the Neighborhood Bible School near the corner of Mayfield and Norfolk Sunday, October 28. The service starts at 11 a.m. Visitors will be welcome.

So, be up there at Clarenceville High School next Monday to vote will you, neighbor? The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Don't let the children down.

The Edwin Bearings entertained her brother from Ewart the past week. They all spent a couple of days with relatives in Toledo.

The George Waite's entertained her sister-in-law, Mrs. Edna Paul, and her friend Mrs. Emma Sterling of Detroit Sunday.

A group of twelve Rebekahs attended visitation at Ferndale last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Charles Trickey, Sr., who has been in St. Joseph Hospital at Pontiac for a few days, returned home Sunday. She will be confined to her bed for some time.

The Baptist Church will hold its Harvest Home Supper as a family night at the church October 26 at 6:30. On Saturday night, October 27, they will have a joint Halloween party at the Walled Lake Baptist Church. Sunday, October 28, will be Rally Day with roll call by number.

Little Johnnie Thayer, who spent most of the past week at the home of his uncle George Waite, returned home Sunday.

The George Waite's entertained Mr. and Mrs. William MacRobert, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schroder of Walled Lake Monday evening honoring Mrs. MacRobert's birthday. Mary Elsie Curtis spent her school vacation with her aunt.

A tremendous happiness will take over our community next week. It's just it! And indeed we hope that those residents who have not got around to registering to vote before it is this time. Valuation on property here is low, and one more mill per thousand won't make much difference on that small tax statement you get next year.

But what difference will it make to the school children trudging past your door? Or the kids you see outdoors so much? A lot of them can only go to school half days because there aren't enough classrooms to give them the opportunity for education that their own parents had.

A "yes" vote next Wednesday will mean the immediate structure of one new elementary school, a beautiful sight on paper! Twelve classrooms, a kindergarten room, and a kitchen and dining room are provided for with the one-floor plan. Duplicate schools will be built if the propositions are approved. One school may be located on Eight Mile Road, west of Middlebelt, the other on Labers Road, north of Seven Mile Road. The program of building would extend from now until 1955 and would include a badly needed addition on the high school.

So, be up there at Clarenceville High School next Monday to vote will you, neighbor? The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Don't let the children down.

Murmurs

Intersections. Room mothers who help teachers plan events and secure parent cooperation are also "the latest thing". Attending a school of instruction for room representatives at Pontiac last Tuesday evening were Mrs. Frank Bolland, supervisor of Edgewood School room mothers, Mrs. Charlotte Fendley, Central School supervisor, and Mrs. T. K. Allan, who is in charge of the Clarenceville High School moms. Also attending were Mrs. George Evans, Mrs. Robert Dennis, and Mrs. Harold House.

Having a bad time is one ardent member of the Clarenceville P.T.A., Gus Davis of 18710 Middlebelt Road. Last week she was rushed to Ann Arbor for further treatment when infection set in. She's back home now and the P.T.A. wishes her a speedy return to her job as their publicity chairman.

P.T.A. moms at St. Paul's Lutheran School are busy these days planning their annual Harvest Festival which will begin with a ham dinner at 5 p.m. next Friday evening, November 3. A colored movie is scheduled for 7 p.m., followed by a skit to be presented by the senior Walther League. About a dozen booths will attract the crowd and we'll tell you more about them next week. Proceeds from the festival will help pay for a new school bus.

The coat of white paint and bright green shutters on the school's "chercher" sign signify the amount of work done by members of the St. Paul's congregation this summer. The pretty house is now waiting for the new superintendent, who is yet to be appointed for the church school on Middlebelt Road. Mrs. Rodewald of Detroit is assisting Mr. Romp at the school until the new teacher arrives.

Taking off Saturday for a week's view of autumn in the East were Mrs. Richard Schulkins and 18-month-old Sharon, who's having her first real trip. Accompanied by Sharon's grandmother, Mrs. Linda Schulkins of 24560 Floral, Farmington, they planned to visit relatives in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Urberville, Ohio. Mrs. Schulkins left pies and cookies in the freezer for hubby along with all the other goodies she's been canning and freezing all summer. Next to Mrs. Jack Easton, her neighbor on Middlebelt Road, Mrs. S. had just about the biggest food-preserving factory in our neighborhood this year. We think she deserves a vacation.

The Reynolds LeBans of 21450 Washington were thrilled last Thursday evening when daughter Jackie's beautiful "poodle" voice waffled way up to Michigan from Memphis, Tennessee. Jackie, now an Airman Apprentice of the Waves, is studying electronics at the Navy base at Memphis. Her voice reached Michigan the other night when she appeared on the Ted Mack radio show there, and old friends from Farmington ate now busily raising up votes for Miss Jackie. If you remember her wonderful entertainment at a great many Farmington events, perhaps you will be a pal and send in your votes.
