THE MICHIGAN MIRROR

By GENE ALLEMAN
Soviet's second atomic explosion also spurred interest in civilian defense. Interest has been suffering hot weather apathy.

The state's share from the 1951 horse racing was $4,449,414, some 32 per cent over the previous year.

There are but 11 private banks left in Michigan, and eight of these plan to apply for state charters or to become branches of chartered banks.

A special legislative committee will recommend establishment of a state-operated ferry between Frankfort and Menominee at the next session of the legislature.

Michigan county employees made salaries a factory sweeper would laugh at. Nearly half the county clerks, treasurers and registers of deeds get less than $3,000 a year.

A forecast of 23,000 more unemployed Detroit automobile workers has, followed announcements of new and drastic cuts in passenger numbers of 1952.

At the same time, pirating of scarce technicians by war contractors in Detroit and elsewhere has developed to such a point as to alert defense chiefs for possible crackdowns. The wage stabilization board is considering a plan to halt the shanghaiing of men from one employer to another.

About 70 per cent of all train orders are now transmitted by telephone.
