SCHOOL CLUBS HOLD COFFEE HOUR IN LIBRARY

Farmington High's Library Club and Camera Club held a "Coffee Hour" Tuesday, November 13, at 2:30 p.m. in the High School library.

Coffee and cookies were served while teachers and club members viewed book and photograph displays. Books recently purchased for the library were exhibited. Also shown were a number of books purchased from the Detroit News Company specifically for resale at this annual Book Week Sale.

Seventy-two prize winning photographs made by high school students from all parts of the country were exhibited. The display included first, second and third prize winners in each of the four classes into which the contest was divided.

It has been the policy of the Library Club in the past to hold this display during Book Week to show new books to teachers and students.

The display will continue through this week. J. D.

Representative Speaks To Economics Class

A film and talk by a loan company representative highlighted the sixth hour Economics Class Friday, November 9.

The film, "Every Seventh Family", showed the circumstances under which small loans are made. It explained how you go about getting a small loan. The film stressed the fact that character and willingness to pay are the only qualifications to get a loan.

After the film, Mr. Mattila introduced Mr. Myrn Smith, president of the Plymouth Finance Company, who reviewed the film and answered questions. He also stated that the film could have been entitled "Every Fifth Family" because now about one in every five families deal with small loan companies. C. T.

SENIORS NOMINATE DAD CANDIDATES DURING MEETINGS

Seniors were asked to nominate three girls as candidates for the DAR Good Citizenship Award at advisory meetings held November 8. Qualifications for this award are dependability, service to others, leadership and patriotism.

In other business, seniors were asked to fill in forms, indicating the names of the girls they wished to be written on their diplomas.

The groups also talked of various dance and play committees and where properties could be found for the senior play, "Here Comes Charlie", which will be given November 17 at 8:00 p.m. in the Farmington High gym. J. R.

Interlakes Talent Show Slated Next Semester

The Interlakes Talent Show will be presented again this year. This was decided by the Interlakes Student Council during their meeting held at Walled Lake October 5.

Each school's council will decide how the show is to be presented for their students. At the next meeting of the Interlakes Council, presentation dates for each school will be set.

School problems such as stag lines at dances, pep meetings, and smoking and drinking on school buses were discussed.

Walled Lake served apied cider and doughnuts for refreshments. R. C.

ENGLISH STUDENTS ATTEND RADIO CLINIC AT U-M

Twelve Farmington High students attended a "Radio Clinic" held at the University of Michigan November 10.

A demonstration of a radio show was presented first, followed by informal talks and demonstrations on selecting suitable background music and sound effects for a radio show.

In the afternoon, demonstrations of news reporting, reading of commercials and "disk jockeying" were given.

Dick Mason, Farmington junior, took part as an announcer. Dr. Garrison, of the University Speech Department, concluded the clinic by auditioning students from the audience and producing a play, "The Play".

Students, Educators Participate in Confab

Seven former Farmington High students were interviewed by Mr. G. V. Harrison during the 23rd annual Freshman Conference held at the University of Michigan November 6 and 7.

Interviewed were D. Alexander, P. Aschenbrenner, J. Bates, J. Keck, R. Pieron, V. Stock, and M. Weaver — all graduates of the Class of '51.

Principals and teachers from 143 high schools and junior colleges participated in the two-day affair. This conference is designed to help principals prepare high school students for problems encountered in college.

Representatives first met Monday, December 6, for an informal round table discussion.

Principals met with freshmen students Tuesday. Following this, group discussions were held in the Michigan Union. Mr. Harrison served as chairman of one of the discussion groups.

The luncheon Tuesday, Dr. Harlow H. Hatcher, president of the University, and Clyde Varman, Director of Admissions, spoke.

One Hundred Books Received By Library

The library has ordered and received about 100 new books since school started this fall.

The three outstanding books among these are: "This Is War", "In Our Image" and "So You Are Elected".

"This Is War" by David Douglas Duncan is one of the first books on the Korean War. Pictures predominate this book.

"In Our Image" is a character study from the Old Testament. There are 32 colored paintings by Guy Rowe.

"So You Are Elected" is a book for newly elected officers telling how to hold meetings, select various committees, and other points of interest.

The books are now in circulation. J. D.

America's growing population and expanded industry now require more than double the amount of coal mined in 1900.

Seven Wolves Included In $23,250 Bounty Payments

Including seven wolves, the most since September 1949, the conservation department reports September bounty payments cost the state $23,250.

Paying in 1,641 foxes, 804 coyotes, 170 bobcats and seven wolves, this was nearly double August bounty costs and about $7,000 more than in September, 1950.

In September 1949, eight wolves were bountied.

The seven wolves taken last month were all from the upper peninsula, as were the bobcats and all except 52 of the coyotes.
