ROLLING DOWN THE RIVER

By Bob Kettler

Mac and his wife dropped in for a bit of coffee the other morning and of course was promptly engaged them in a bit of conversation.

Well that's the way things are and with taxes and taxes and a bit of "under-the-table" sort of thing in high prices, we hope that the boys will soon adopt the "barnyard hen" as a shining example.

Now it may just be coincidental, as they say in the movies, but we've never known the boys to Studebaker to make it had automobile either.

This on again, off again winter of ours simply bears out our contention that the best alarm clock there is is the smell of bacon and eggs sizzling together on the kitchen stove.

We'd very much like to have you come in for that tune-up or lubrication job your car undoubtedly needs, but considering the season we'd rather talk of the fine Christmas gifts available to our parts department.

Dear Editor: Well, it has happened just as I foresaw that it would. I mean the traffic tie-up near the new post office.

I had to be in Northville at a certain time. Leaving my home, I certainly tried to get there without speeding. At 4:30 p.m. Wednesday I tried to drive south on Farmington Road only to see cars parked on both sides of the street.

That might not have been so had only the car ahead of me stopped and double parked while a person from the car ran into the Post Office. I could have waited there and been late for my appointment in Northville, but I chose to pull around the car which made a hazardous situation with four cars abreast.

I could just barely squeeze through, it put me way over on the wrong side of the road. If a car had pulled away from the curb on the east side of the street, not noticing me, I could have been crushed and someone seriously injured.

What are our lawmakers waiting for? Christmas? It isn't far off but in the meantime we may have a few more accidents here. There was no one around to tell this driver to move on or else.
