Neighbors and friends were deeply shocked this last week when Mrs. Marvin Addis of Norfolk Avenue died in her sleep at Sessions Hospital in Northville Monday, December 10. Although she had been ill and in poor health for some time, her complete recovery was hoped for until a day or two before her death. Her acquaintance was very large because she had lived in the West Point Park area for more than 25 years. During most of that time she had been active in all charitable and civic projects of the community. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 2 p.m. from the Heinen Funeral Home in Farmington.

Rev. Virgil Halbush of Grace Lutheran Church officiated. His words were appropriate and comforting.

Pall bearers were Homer Cootman, Ed Johnson, Robert Hunter, Russell Ault and George and Howard Middlewood. Interment was in Oakland Hills Memorial Park Cemetery.

Neighborhood Sunshine Sisters held their annual Christmas grab bag in the Neighborhood Church last Wednesday at 7 p.m. About 200 women and 100 children participated in the affair.

There were fitting devotional exercises. During the devotions a few minutes were spent in prayer for the family and friends mourning the departure of Mrs. Addis. Time was taken to extend congratulations to Mrs. Joseph Sidelinker, who was celebrating her 68th birthday.

She in turn sang by request her favorite hymn, "Gloria in Excelsis." Most of the afternoon was given over to passing out and inspecting the gifts that were exchanged. The items, many of them home made and a 50¢ maximum on the others, were truly amazing for variety and attractiveness.

Care has been taken to provide parcels to be sent out to neighborhood shut-ins. Sunshine Sisters had brought in an assortment of Christmas candies which were served with tea all present.

The next Sunshine meeting will be held in the Neighborhood Church at 2 p.m. Wednesday, December 26.

At that time the Brownie Troop led by Mrs. Cecil Willet will present a program. All women and girls of the neighborhood are invited to be present. Refreshments will be served.

It is suggested that Secret Pal under the sponsorship of the Sunshine Sisters, send or bring Christmas gifts for the church for this occasion. If the recipient is not present at the service arrangements can be made to have it properly delivered.
