Denby Class Plans Reunion

The June 1962 graduating class of Denby High School, Detroit, will hold its 10-year reunion Sept. 22 in Imperial Hall, 34701 Groesbeck, south of 15 Mile, Fraser.

Admission is $10 per person and includes dinner and dancing. Reservations may be made now with Thomas Patrick Hughes of Farmington, 1969 Country Club Drive, Grosse Pointe Woods.

15 Children Are Attendants As Parents Wed

Cardinal John Dearden officiated when Mrs. Jane Wolford of Detroit and John Michael of Farmington exchanged marriage vows June 1.

The couple's children—seven for the bride and eight for the groom—served as attendants to signify "the unification of the coming together of families."

The ceremony took place in Precious Blood Catholic Church in Detroit. Celebrating the nuptial mass with the archbishop of Detroit were the Rev. Marvin Young of Precious Blood and the Rev. Michael O'Leary, coordinator of parish and vicariate adult education in the Archdiocese Institute for Continuing Education.

THE BRIDE, who is director for the Institute, was accompanied by three daughters, Diane Wolford Symkowski, Maureen Wolford Werts and Theresa Wolford; daughter-in-law Nina Kable Wolford; and three of her four sons, James, John and Joseph. Her son Michael is in military service and was not able to attend.

With the bridegroom were five daughters and three sons, Judy Hughes Petre, Christine Hughes Berry, Dianne Hughes Haas, and Elaine, Maureen, John, Michael and Paul Hughes.

Assisting the bride party as ushers were five sons—in-law of the couple, William Petre, Laurence Symkowski, Jack Berry, Ernest Werts and Thomas Haas.

THE NEW MRS. HUGHES is the daughter of Frank R. Gerbig Sr., founder and retired president of the United States Fastener Corp., civic leader and philanthropist.

Widowed in 1969, she is nationally known as an expert on adult education.

Her husband, also widowed in 1969, is a purchasing agent for the Ford Motor Co.

They are building a new home on Brittany Drive in Farmington, where they will live with nine of their children.

THE TRADITIONAL AND THE INFORMAL blended in the Farmington wedding of Lynda Erngren of Westland and Ron Osmaloski of Farmington Saturday, June 3. They were married on the front steps of a 155-year-old Farmington home on Farmington Road north of 13 Mile, and it was the first ceremony performed by Ken Christie, leader of a rock group known as

Ken Christie and the Sunday People and recently ordained pastor in the Brotherhood of Christ. The bridegroom is a drummer in the band. The bride and her attendants were in traditional, summery gowns, the men wore top hats and cutaways, and the guests had folding chairs on the front lawn. (Evert photo)

New Howard Home To Hold Open House

The newly-remodeled Howard Home Residence facility, located in Detroit on Selden between Second and Third, will be scene of an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. Tuesday, June 13.

The League for the Handicapped-Goodwill will host the gathering to display the pilot project home that serves as a residence for senior citizens and handicapped clients of the League-Goodwill and as a halfway house for former state hospital patients.

The Howard Home is an outgrowth of the old Howard Street Mission, a home for indigent men in Downtown Detroit. It was razed in urban renewal projects more than a decade ago, and the hotel on Selden was purchased for use as a senior citizens' retirement home.

Last year the Howard Home board of directors voted to merge with the League-Goodwill.

A grant from the Michigan Vocational Rehabilitation Services and matching funds from Detroit area benefactors has made possible a $250,000 remodeling, and the home now has rooms for 150 individuals as well as space for vocational training and room for patients released by state hospitals for supervised programs.

Nurses Plan Workshop

Nurses are being invited to attend a workshop on the system of patient categorization at Oakland University on Thursday, June 8. Enrollments are being taken at the university conference department in Rochester.

Helen W. Dunn, RN, education consultant, board of nursing, department of licensing and regulation, will conduct the workshop. The influence of patient categorization on nursing staff, staff distribution, budget, requests for nursing personnel, orientation, hospital remodeling and building programs and nursing staff self-evaluation will be explored.
