Sarah Hale Wed In Oregon Garden

Sarah Louise Hale and Jonathon Christopher Herman exchanged marriage vows in the garden of her parents' home in Salem, Ore.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Hale, former Plymouth residents.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Herman of Lacey, Wash. The bride made her full length empire dress of sheer white polyester seersucker over antique white satin. The dress was fashioned with a square neckline, short puffed sleeves and full, tiered skirt trimmed with beaded Victorian lace decorated with forget-me-nots.

For "something old," the bride wore a bracelet worn by both her mother and her grandmother at their weddings.

Kathleen Newton was maid of honor and Ann Christine Wolcott was the bridesmaid. The flower girl was Jill Moore.

A reception in the Hale home followed the wedding. Visiting from Florida to attend the rites were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Benson, also former Plymouth residents.

After a wedding trip to Vancouver, B.C. the couple will live in Corvallis, Ore. where both are students at Oregon State University.

for this young woman of 68. "But my husband has been retired for a while, and wants so badly to live in Florida that I decided it was time to go," she said.

She won't be idle when she, and her husband, Oscar William Agre, move from their Livonia home to one they've picked near Newport Richee on Florida's west coast.

"The area has lots of young people, so I want to work with the schools on a consulting basis or perhaps run for the school board or help establish a clinic," Mrs. Agre said.

"Already I've been asked to speak to a child psychology class in St. Petersburg Junior College. And I want my friends here to remember to visit me."

With trees flowering and children learning, Garden City isn't likely to forget Crystal Agre.
