IN A "HIS" and "her" hobby room, a couple can pursue their individual interests while enjoying companionship. This room was designed for such use, with "her" area shown at the right and "his" at the left. While he creates designs at a drawing board, she can be sewing on the other side of their colorful orange, brown and white den. The light-toned walls of paneling furnish a backdrop for the colorful furnishings. Bold stripes in the chair covering and awning style shades, the Indian design area rug and a rugged oak-grained valet chest in the corner give his area a masculine flavor. Her area has some feminine touches in art objects on the desk and wall, modern lamp over the sewing machine, wicker baskets in corner and potted plants and flowers.
