

INDEX

Cover	Page 1
T. H. Grant	Page 2
Index	Page 3
Intro.	Page 3
Chudiks	Page 4
Wayside Gifts	Page 5
GiGi Florist	Page 5
Thunderbird Inn	Page 6
McFarran Studio	Page 6
Steve Petix	Page 7
Kitty Kelly	Page 7
Naps	Page 8
Valentes	Page 9
David Walcher	Page 10
Ge Ge	Page 11
JMJ Catering	Page 11
Raleigh House	Page 12
Carl's Corner	Page 13
Gold Bell	Page 14
Ingrids Bridal	Page 14
Dun Rovin Golf	Page 15
Schwartz	Page 15
Henry's Bakery	Page 18
Fabric Village	Page 18
Hearthside	Page 19
Gingiss Formal	Page 20
Bowman's Farm Cup	Page 20
Fredricks	Page 21
Rine Jewelry	Page 21
Jacobson's	Page 22
Sue Gordon's Bridal	Page 23
Jack Gorbach Photo	Page 23
Dobie Jewelers	Page 24
Mayflower Hotel	Page 25
Continental Exclusives	Page 25
Hillside Inn	Page 26
McClure Flowers	Page 26
Farris Bros.	Page 26
Cricket Box	Page 27
Nick Bos Flowers	Page 27
Stouffer's Northland	Page 27
Noling Merriman	Page 28
Stuart's	Page 28
Westdale	Page 29
Jackson Orchestra	Page 29
Rio Cleaners	Page 30
Canton Garden Apts.	Page 30
Perma Seal	Page 30
AAA	Page 31
Del's Shoes	Page 32

ystical, Magical Winter Bride

Lost in white on white. White sun white moon, white land to match our white lade. We can capture a brides "Camelot" where all is perfect in a happiness ever after setting. All of this is incomplete unless our lady can find the magician to supply all those magical elements for this once in a lifetime event.

Let us take the bride back to those perfect times in that place so perfect "Camelot." Magic abounds for our white lady in this setting and she may add to her supply of magic right from Merlins own castle tower.

When her knight in shinning armour arrives, our white lady will have the perfect costume to bewitch even the most recalcitrant prince charming. He in turn shall be the perfect prince with attire that befits the richest and most handsome of princes.

The Nuptials will be as holy and correct as the King and Queen could possibly desire. The pagentry must also be perfect, for this is the greatest event of all events for the white lady.

And our guests for this onetime occasion, shall enjoy a feast like no other, with all the repast that only a royal ceremony can have.

Our servants shall serve in only the most perfect manner with only the most perfect items.

So when our prince carries off our maiden to his castle in the sky, the magic of this event shall remain with us forever and they shall live happily ever after.