

'Karamov Equations' Author To Be Speaker

By DORIS SCHARFENBERG
Special Writer

The doctor has novel ideas, and some of them may affect your medical future.

Dr. Marshall Goldberg, author of the best - selling thriller "The Karamov Equations" (soon to be a movie), wants the world to know that he is first and foremost a doctor, one with strong feelings about reforms needed in the medical profession.

DR. GOLDBERG is director of medical education at Hurley Hospital, Flint, and president of the Michigan Association of Medical Educators.

As a novelist, he will address the 11th annual Oakland University writers' conference in Rochester on Saturday, Oct. 21. Reservations are still being taken for the day-long conference through OU's continuing education department.

As a teacher of future doctors, Dr. Goldberg is constantly addressing himself to improvements in medical ethics and practice.

"A good doctor is worth every cent he's paid," insists Dr. Goldberg, "but many physicians pay more attention to pharmaceutical salesmen than to research reports, only 75,000 are good, 210,000

Workshop Centers On Young Writers

ROCHESTER Teachers and school administrators will learn how to encourage and to develop creative writing in the classroom Nov. 10-11, at Rochester University.

Dr. Leland Jacobs, professor of children's literature at Columbia University and author of numerous children's books, will keynote the Young Authors' Planning Conference with two presentations: Literature as a Backround for Writing, and Young Authors as Composers with Words.

DR. HARRY T. HAHN, director of the learning strategy center, Detroit Public Schools.

The conference will open at 1 p.m., Friday, Nov. 10 and will conclude at 3:30 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 11.

OU Conference Programs Fit Busy Schedule

ROCHESTER If you find you are too busy to attend classes but want to continue your education, the conference program at Oakland University may be of interest to you.

Mrs. Douglas Owen, director, invites you to join the over 7,000 alert but busy people who attend one and two - day programs on the campus.

CONFERENCE DEPARTMENT programs explore and inform on a wide variety of subjects including preschool children, special children, creative writing, parapsychology, air pollution control, transactional analysis and many others.

Although all conferences are open to the public, registration fees are charged since the department is required to be financially self-supporting.

Descriptive brochures on the conference program are available from the university office.

Ishangi Group To Perform

DETROIT Nigeria's famed Ishangi Dancers combine the humor, excitement and heritage of all parts of Africa into a well-packed hour of music, dance and folk tales. "Adventures in Africa" They will be seen at 8 a.m. and 2 p.m., Saturday Oct. 21 at the Detroit Institute of Arts Youth theater. Tickets are on sale at the Institute ticket office.

The company is also appearing in special performances for metropolitan elementary schools as part of the in - school assembly programs Youth theater offers.

Masonic Chapter Will Meet

The Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of Michigan will hold its 12th annual convocation in Dearborn on Oct. 19, 20 and 21. Headquarters will be at the Dearborn Inn, on Oakwood across from Grand Valley.

Thursday's activities will include a special meeting at the Al Mata Grotto, 5121 Oakman, attended by the grand officers, past grand high priests, committee chairman, and district deputy instructors. The grand high priest banquet is scheduled for that night at the Dearborn Inn.

The reformer can act as well as talk. By working there himself, recruiting friends and badgering drug companies for supplies, Dr. Goldberg was instrumental in establishing the first medical facility for blacks in Fayette, Miss.

"The Anatomy Lesson," the story of a first-year medical student, his cadaver and his surprising viewpoint is Dr. Goldberg's current writing project, already sold to Putnam Press.

The Order of the High priesthood will be conferred in the youth center auditorium at 3 p.m. on Friday.

The ladies are invited to a special luncheon on Friday, noon at Dearborn Inn.

The reformer can act as well as talk. By working there himself, recruiting friends and badgering drug companies for supplies, Dr. Goldberg was instrumental in establishing the first medical facility for blacks in Fayette, Miss.

"The Anatomy Lesson," the story of a first-year medical student, his cadaver and his surprising viewpoint is Dr.

Goldberg's current writing project, already sold to Putnam Press.

"Medicine is my field. I have too much training and love it to go to another field. My mission is to be the best doctor I can be and help others to feel the same way."

DR. MARSHALL GOLDBERG

overuse tranquilizers or are too quick to resort to surgery."

Dr. Goldberg would like to see a better system of continuing education for doctors, less attention paid to politics and more attention given to the aged.

As a novelist, he will address the 11th annual Oakland University writers' conference in Rochester on Saturday, Oct. 21. Reservations are still being taken for the day-long conference through OU's continuing education department.

As a teacher of future doctors, Dr. Goldberg is constantly addressing himself to improvements in medical ethics and practice.

"A good doctor is worth every cent he's paid," insists Dr. Goldberg, "but many physicians pay more attention to pharmaceutical salesmen than to research reports, only 75,000 are good, 210,000

FEW PATIENTS

appreciate the cost of running an office (many physicians pay $5,000 a year for malpractice insurance alone) and grumble if told "there's nothing wrong with you." But this is better, contends Dr. Goldberg, than prescribing useless drugs just to keep the patient happy.

His statement that "of 300,000 doctors in the country,

thinks to research reports,

only 75,000 are good, 210,000

CROWLEY'S 64TH ANNIVERSARY SALE

20% OFF OR MORE! That's how you save on fashions for yourself... items for your entire family, by shopping now at Crowley's!

ZIP-LINED RAINCOATS

$29.99

REGULARLY $45
in water-repellant Fortrel®/cotton canvas; warmth with a zip-in pile lining. Two styles regular length: one pant coat: Old Salt, blue, camel or brown; misses' sizes. Coats (#37). Second Level.

ROSENBAUM PANTSUITS

$17.49

REGULARLY $22
in 3 styles, all Celanese Fortrel® double knit polyester. Short-sleeved, hand silk-screen print top over solid pant in colors including navy, wine, brown or purple. Career Shop (#60). Second Level.

CIRE NYLON SKI PARKAS

$19.99

REGULARLY $25,
these Hong Kong imports are fashioned for needed warmth, without tiring weight. Choose navy, purple or brown in sizes small thru extra large. Save for the season!

Better Sportswear (#42). Street Level.

DRESSMAKER PAJAMAS

$3.99

REGULARLY $6
our cozy flannels are easy-care in pretty cotton flannel prints. Lace trims florals in pink, blue or lilac; sizes 34 to 40. A good gift item at savings!

Sleepwear (#67). Second Level.

CROWLEY'S 64TH ANNIVERSARY SALE

BODY PERM SPECIAL!

$12.29

REGULARLY $25,
you get the best of everything, as usual, even at these savings! Let our experts do the styling of a prettier new you by stopping in now! Beauty Salon, Second Level.

Phone: 476-8912

FARMINGTON 12 Mile & Farmington Rd

