'King Lear' To Be Staged At EMU

YPSILANTI players across the country "King Lear" will be presented by the National Shakespeare Company at 8 p.m., Monday, Nov. 20, in Pease Auditorium on the Eastern Michigan University campus.

Admission to the play is $2, with tickets available at the McKenny Union ticket office or at the door.

The company, with offices in New York City, was founded in 1963. Each season's nine-month trek takes the

EMU Play To Open

YPSILANTI "Detective Story," set in the squad room of a New York City police station, will be performed by the Eastern Michigan Players Nov. 14-19 in Quirk Auditorium. Curtain time is 8 each evening.

The cast includes George Witkowski of Palmer Street, Plymouth; Christopher Coleman of Melrose, Livonia; and Mike McNeely of Berwick, Livonia. McNeely plays Detective Gallagher, and Witkowski plays Lt. Monaghan.

The play ranges from the comedy of a paranoid woman with electronic vision to the gripping reality of the central theme, the pursuit of a legal abortion by a self-righteous cop. Sidney Kingsley is the author.

Tickets are on sale at the Quirk box office.

2 OLM Teachers To Jury Art Show

The Farmington Artists Club has invited Sister Mary Ignatius, RSM, to be a juror for its fall exhibit and sale Nov. 17-19 in the Farmington Masonic Temple, Farmington Road and Grand River.

Sister Ignatius is director of the art department of Our Lady of Mercy High School in Farmington. She received her BA from Western Michigan University and her MA from Notre Dame University.

Assisting her will be a colleague, Sister Michaeline Lewandowski, RSM. She also earned her MA and studied at Notre Dame and did post-graduate work at Wayne State University after completing her BA from Mercy College of Detroit.

SISTER M. IGNATIUS

The show will be open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday; and from noon to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Besides the regular gallery, there will be an "art on a budget" department (unframed art works). There will be no admission charge and refreshments will be served.

GOING BACKWARD and forward in time, we see the young man's relationship with his well-meaning but insensitive father, his loving but possessive mother, and his unsentimental girl friend, who makes a tongue-in-cheek promise to be faithful to him while he is in the Army.

These three parts are played by Dennis Saltarelli of Livonia, Linda Ball of Garden City and Veda Riedel of Detroit.

A 12-year-old Livonian, Jeff Saunders, who is a student at Roosevelt Elementary School, has been cast as the neighbor boy.

Finally, there is a soldier who helps spell out the true location of the summertime. Jim St. Louis of Westland is cast in this part.

Choral Union Plans 'Salute'

Participating will be Southfield residents Elizabeth Harding, Deborah Gaultley, James Clark, Sonia Gaultley, Richard Gabriel, Corinna Krajewski, Irwin Krinsky and Cheryl Rowland.

Organ Club

The Livonia Hammond Organ Club will meet at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Nov. 13, in the Community Room of the Livonia Mall, Seven Mile and Middle Belt. All interested in music are invited.

DICK BENSEK

Large portions of any fruit salad may be served as the main course of a luncheon or supper. The best accompaniment for the fruit in this case is cream cheese and walnuts. Hot breads are also a favorite with fruit salad, and a salad such as this is often a real treat: a break in the monotony of meat and vegetables. What about a stuffed pear or peach salad? Simply fill the hollow with chopped dates and nuts, mix with orange juice and shape into balls.

For a real treat take your company and family to DANISH INN, 32305 Grand River Ave., 476-5320. Decorated cakes are always available for birthdays and anniversaries. Good wine selection and the enjoyable piano playing of Pat Flowers nightly Tues. thru Sat. from 8:30 p.m. to closing, make Danish Inn a popular place for celebrating any occasion.

HELPFUL HINT: Roll bananas in chopped salted peanuts, serve with French dressing -- delicious!

Edgars To Show 2 Nature Films

DETROIT Bill and Evelyn Edgar of Plymouth will present their film program "Wildlife: The Near and the Far," at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 14, in the WWJ Auditorium, Lafayette at Third.

There is no charge for the program, which is being sponsored by the Detroit Audubon Society.

EDGAR is past president of the society and Mrs. Edgar is former editor of its newsletter, "The Flyway." They are nature enthusiasts and are members of the Photographic Society of America.

Edgar will show his prize-winning film of the interesting activities of Seven Ponds Nature Center near Dryden, near and the Far," at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 14, in the WWJ Auditorium, Lafayette at Third.

MRS. EDGAR will give her slide show of their trip last June to the Galapagos Islands off the coast of Chile. Her "Ecology Safari" will show the work of the Darwin Research Station with the famous giant tortoises.

The Edgars, on a trip led by the National Wildlife Federation, spent much of their time in the rocky arid coastal areas of the seven islands they visited.

'Book Shop' Is Musical

DETROIT Book characters will come alive in "Mr. Solomon's Magical Book Shop," an Omnibus Children's Theater production to be presented Sundays, Nov. 12 and 19, at 2 p.m.

The production, which is part of the Jewish Community Center's 21st annual Jewish book fair, will be presented in the Aaron DeRoy Theater at the center, 18100 Meyers.

"Mr. Solomon's Magical Book Shop" was written especially for the fair by Barry Hurd. Irene Malin is the director and dances have been choreographed by Harriet Berg and Denise Szykula.

Musical arrangements are by Julius Chajes with an ensemble from the Center Symphony Orchestra performing.

Many children are in the production, which portrays a bookshop run by four children's books. They are Sydney Taylor's "All-of-a-Kind Family," Solomon Simon's "The Wise Men of Chelm," "Mr. Epstein's 'Houdini,'" and Ben Schechter's "Inspector Rose."

Tickets are available at the center.
