Yule Gifts Gathered For Teens At Center

A project that began with a group of churchwomen seeking community involvement over a year ago brought a Christmas party and a plentiful supply of presents to teens in the Wayne County Child Development Center.

The women -- part of a task force at Epiphany Lutheran Church of Plymouth -- began working with 20 girls in a vocational rehabilitation unit last January.

The Child Development Center residents, ranging in age from 15 to 20, were interested in learning to knit, so the Epiphany women began a collection of yarn and needles, offering their time as instructors.

FROM ITS knit - two - knit two beginnings, the relationship grew to regular visits, each one featuring a craft session and a swap of letters. PTL (for Praise The Lord).

As this holiday season approached, the women decided they wanted to have a share in making Christmas merry for the girls in their ward, and their church and community pitched in to help them.

Groups of women in Epiphany contributed purses, beach bags, tote bags and ceramic medallions with the letters PTL (for Praise The Lord).

Fabric - Go - Round fabric stores donated polyester knits worth over $100, and church women at a workshop one day turned them into T-shirts for the girls.

Kmart provided 20 pairs of slippers, Cunningham Drugs gave candy canes, and Deloitte firms, Northwest Blue and Duff Duffinback Service Co., sent school supplies for each of the girls.

ALSO THERE were full-sized bottles of shampoo from the Brock Co. and other cosmetics came from the Professional Park Pharmacy in Farmington. Dr. Nils Kornes of Plymouth sent 20 toothbrushes.

Many other gifts came from anonymous donors, so there was a big stack of presents to be passed out by Santa Claus, played by Milo Larson of Epiphany, at the Christmas potluck supper and party on Dec. 19.

Jan Stutzman and Karen Miller have served as chairman and co-chairman of the project over the year, joining them in the visits and collections for the project were Mrs. Fred Stutzman, Mrs. Voda Thores of Livonia, four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.
