

Westland Center is a shopping center and a whole lot more. The center combines convenience, selection, and beauty to give Observer families a pleasant and helpful atmosphere.

Located on Wayne and Warren Roads, the center is the first enclosed and climate-controlled mall in Wayne County.

Internationally-known architects Victor Gruen and Louis Redstone conceived and designed the center that we all know and compliment with amazement. The center has facilities to offer all ages and stores to meet the needs and fancies of all tastes. Due to Westland Center's community impact, the surrounding communities have grown and flourished. New office buildings, theatres, new businesses, and apartment complexes have made the growth and development rate one of the highest in the State of Michigan.

Once inside the mall, the style and artistic beauty of the center is realized. Stained glass windows and fountains, an appealing array of sculpture and specially landscaped tropical foliage adorn the center. The enclosed corridors offer the shopper an opportunity to browse while shopping.

A little community lies within the walls of Westland Center. Maintenance crews work to keep the halls and stores clean and attractive. The special police force helps to keep order and friendly atmosphere.

Westland Center offers educational and entertainment facilities to make it a community gathering place. The auditorium attracts many community events as well as regularly scheduled displays of antiques, hobbies, and demonstrations.

The Merchants Association of Westland Center is unique. They work together and have a unified goal: To keep Westland Center the most attractive, elegant, and pleasant mall in Observerland. They have done an excellent job and their work is complimented by the large number of shoppers every year.
